Greek Leader May Oppose Plan for Cyprus

Said to Balk at Guarantees of Bases for Britain

BY GARVEN HODGINS
London — Britain spelled out today at the opening of a roundtable conference its plan for giving independence to Cyprus. There were indications of opposition from Archbishop Makarios might block speedy acceptance.

The 4-point plan called for

adoption of the agreement worked out last week in Zurich by Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes and Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis. As a first point, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd stressed that the strategic needs of Britain on the eastern Mediterranean island and such as bases, should be guaranteed so that they cannot be challenged later.

Archbishop Makarios was reported balking over acceptance of this point. He is the

Menderes Safe In Crash Landing But 3 Men Killed

London — An airliner made a crash landing today with Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes. The Turkish leader survived but three of those aboard the 4-engine Viscount were killed.

The casualties were announced tonight by the ministry of transport. A ministry spokesman said Menderes and four others aboard were known to be alive after the plane came down near the Surrey village of Newdigate.

The landing location was at Oaklands Park farm about 5 miles from Gatwick.

Cars set out to bring the premiere into London airport terminal, where a greeting party awaited his arrival.

Another party there waited for a plane from Athens carrying Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis to the Cyprus talks.

The two premiers had arranged to have dinner tonight with British Prime Minister Macmillan.

12,000 Acres Under Waters of Wabash

Vincennes, Ind. — The Wabash river poured over a levee west of Oaktown early today, flooding 12,000 acres of rich bottomlands, but a threatening 12-mile ice jam far upstream near Delphi broke up without damage.

The rush of waters washed out soft spots where national guardsmen had piled sandbags to try to hold repairs made after last June's big flood.

Space Travel Frozen Sleep

Would Let Man Go To Solar Systems

Los Angeles — Experiments to determine if man can be frozen solid for years-long trips to other solar systems are under way at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Dr. John Lyman of UCLA's bio-technology laboratory plans to freeze mice and rats at first, but believes his findings can be used to turn humans into ice-like statues for ageless trips through space.

Prepare For Tests
"The big problem is not getting man into space," Dr. Lyman said yesterday. "That will be done within a very few years. The problem is to keep him from becoming psychotic — going insane — under the unnatural conditions and confinement of space flight."

Giving man a natural environment — building space ships big enough to provide oxygen, food and social and recreational facilities — may be prohibitive in cost, Dr. Lyman believes.

The best answer, he said, is frozen sleep. The voyager would not need food, oxygen or companionship. His ship would be operated by electronic brains and he would be revived by an automatic warming process as he neared his destination.

Within two weeks, Dr. Lyman and his associates will begin dunking mice in dry ice-and-alcohol baths to reduce their temperatures to as low as 100 degrees below zero.

"Experiments with monkeys have shown that their temperature can be lowered to 39.2 degrees for up to two hours without detectable after-effects," Dr. Lyman said. "The monkeys, however, were merely in a stage of hibernation."

"What we want to do is stop the life processes completely, then resume them at will."

"If we can do this with man, he will arrive at a distant star — which might take him several normal lifetimes to reach — not one day older than he was when he left earth."

Another frozen sleep would bring the space traveler home years or even centuries after his departure, said Dr. Lyman, and he would have aged only for the period between frozen sleeps.

Watson Wants $54 Million in Education Aids

Calls Small Schools Inefficient; Suggests Review of Costs

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The constitutional head of the state school system has urged a money-conscious state legislature to reflect upon excessive costs of inefficiently small schools.

The candid comments came Monday from George Watson, state superintendent of public instruction, as he obviously astounded some of the newer members of the legislature's budget writing finance committee with a request for state school subsidies amounting to $54 million during the next year and warned that the needed sum will be even greater in the year following.

Watson asked legislators, distressed about state treasury troubles, to be realistic and to look into the problems of the small school.

Aid Too Lenient
He also confessed that his agency probably has been too lenient in classifying schools for highest aid schedules, and hinted that applications from localities will be reviewed more rigorously hereafter.

Reminding lawmakers of the huge state school aid budget, Watson invited them to ponder "whether it is going into the best kind of schools." Watson says, in effect, that the small school is wasteful of tax dollars and inefficient in educational service. He is shooting particularly at small high schools.

"We are now talking with two high schools that have less than 35 pupils each," he related. "I have a notion that I am going to be ornery about renewing their charter," he said.

He added that there are now 22 high schools in the state with less than 75 pupils, and 57 with fewer than 100 enrolled, out of a total of 420 high schools.

Big Jet Planes Near Collision

Miami — A Miami-bound Eastern Air Lines propeller Electra narrowly avoided a collision with an air force B47 jet bomber near Chattanooga, Tenn., yesterday.

Three passengers and a stewardess were injured.

Capt. Raymond Ruprecht, 51, the airliner's pilot, said the big bomber shot past 400 feet below the climbing Electra. Then it disappeared.

Ruprecht, of Miami Springs, who has been flying 33 years, then was to go into action for a full two minutes boosting the payload's speed to 9,000 miles per hour.

Winnebago Board Favors Midway Site

Vote Is 28-13; Most Neenah, Menasha Area Men on 'No' Side

Oshkosh — The Midway road site for the University of Wisconsin extension center got endorsement of the Winnebago county board this morning, 28 to 13.

Ten supervisors were absent.

The vote came just before noon and after an hour of argument over the Midway and Menasha sites.

Gordon Bubolz, chairman of the Appleton Citizens committee, said the 20-acre site on Midway road could be delivered to both counties prior to the April 1 requirement set by the two county committees.

The site is a quarter-mile east of Highway 47, with 600-foot frontage on Midway road and a depth of 1,320 feet to the north.

Bubolz said an affidavit from the city of Appleton had been filed with the Winnebago county clerk in which the city agrees to supply adequate sewer and water facilities.

He said citizen response to the request for funds to purchase the site and to help pay part of the sewer and water extension costs, if necessary, had been "tremendous."

Final Plea
He said the Howard Fritsch family, owners of the site, agreed to sell the property for $45,000 to the Appleton Industrial Development corporation which, in turn, will deed it to the two counties.

Mayor R. C. DuCharme, Menasha, said he would be remiss in his duties if he didn't make another plea on behalf of the Menasha site on County Trunk P, just outside Menasha.

He said Menasha had invested from $80,000 to $100,000 over 14 years to operate the extension center. Menasha had given use of its gymnasium for basketball practice and games, its schools and its high school pool for social events without any charge to the extension center, he stressed.

The Menasha site has been purchased and the city has its budgeted the money to pay

Two Women Shot to Death

Assailant Fired Half Hour Earlier By New York Firm

New York — Two women were shot dead in a textile firm office on Madison avenue today by a man who had been fired by the firm a half hour earlier, police reported.

The man, wielding a rifle, was grabbed and disarmed by three men. Police identified him as Ponell Johnson, a Negro, of the Bronx.

The victims were Lorraine Rosenberg, the Bronx, and Elaine Fallik, of Brooklyn, clerical workers. Both were described as in their 20s.

The three men who grabbed the rifle from the man were Alex Distler, of North Belmore, N. Y.; Edgar Distler, Teaneck, N. J.; and Harold Distler, of Brooklyn. Harold Distler was injured about the head and eyes.

Police gave this story: Johnson had been discharged shortly before 10 a.m. by the Marvin Fabrics company for "unsatisfactory service." He returned at 10:25 a.m., carrying a rifle. He cornered the two women and some men employees in their cubicles facing a lobby entrance.

The man fired three times. One shot hit Miss Rosenberg, another struck Miss Fallik and the third went wild.

The three men rushed at him, knocked the rifle from his hands and held him until police arrived. The rifle still contained two bullets.

Robber Gets $235 From Dairy Store

A hold-up man took about $235 from the Quaker Dairy store at 1326 N. Meade street at about 7:50 p.m. Monday.

Police believe he was the same man who held up the Hamilton Kitchen bakery, 1316 N. Richmond street, last Wednesday. There he took a 23-cent apple strudel and about $85.

A clerk, Mrs. John Heegeman, 1007 E. Byrd street, said the man entered the store at about 7:45 p.m. He picked up a can of chocolate fudge, she said, asked her the price, then pulled a gun and told her to "open the till and give me every cent you have."

He instructed her to lie on the floor, then fled the building. Mrs. Heegeman crawled into a back room and ran outside to a nearby supermarket to call police.

She described the man as about 6 feet, 2 inches tall and about 30 years old. She said he was wearing a dark waist-length jacket and a winter cap. She said he appeared very calm.

Financier May Face Deportation

New York — The federal government is investigating whether Alexander J. Guterman, Russian-born financier accused of violating the securities law, was properly naturalized.

The probe is being conducted by the Immigration and Naturalization Service, John L. Murff, district director of the service, said today.

The inquiry into his citizenship status was the latest in a series of troubles confronting Guterman, 44-year-old resident of New York and Greenwich, Conn.

Two men posing as FBI agents entered Guterman's New York suite last night, tied up his wife and 14-year-old daughter, and looted the apartment. Deputy Chief Inspector Edward T. Feeley said they took jewels worth $42,900 and $2,500 in cash.

Navy Blimp Crashes, Burns; 4 Men Killed

Washington, N.C. — One of two navy blimps on a northbound cruise crashed and burned in a swamp before dawn today. Four members of the 7-man crew died in the crash or subsequent fire. The other three were critically injured.

Three farmers, awakened by an explosion about 2 a.m., waded into the swamp and brought out the three burned survivors. The farmers cut pine saplings, attached fabric relaying distress signals and from the wreckage and with marking the area before proceeding on to Lakehurst.

Critically Burned
The three injured men were in a state of shock when they arrived at Beaufort point ambulances hurried the three to a hospital here.

The ship, attached to Glynn County Naval Air station near Brunswick, Ga., was en route with a sister blimp to Lakehurst, N.J., Naval Air station.

Officers of airship squadron Ore., Roy Lyon of Ferndale, Mich., and Orville L. Moore of McAllister, Okla. Lyon and Moore are enlisted men.

The officers said the blimp was in radio contact with the other, only about five miles away but gave no word of trouble.

This led to the belief that the blimp was flying at cruising speed, and went directly into the earth an accident almost unknown for that type of aircraft.

After the crash, the sister ship hovered above the area relaying distress signals and marking the area before proceeding on to Lakehurst.

First Step In New Era Forecasts

Washington — The United States today cast a "weather eye" satellite into orbit.

The 214-pound sphere, housing instruments capable of reporting the earth's cloud cover, was flung into space with a redesigned model of the often-disappointing Vanguard rocket.

The 3-stage rocket roared away from Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 10:55 a.m.

The national aeronautics and space administration announced here 2 hours and 20 minutes later that the satellite was in orbit.

The basketball-sized new moon marks the opening step in a program of using satellites as aids in improving short-range and long-range weather forecasting.

May Start New Era
Such satellites are expected to open a new era in meteorology and may also provide new and important aid in the quest actually to control the weather.

The official name given to the new satellite is Vanguard II. It is the sixth put up by the United States.

When announcing the new satellite was in orbit, an NASA spokesman said it had been tracked already by the tracking station at San Diego, Calif.

Presumably, the 50-pound shell of the third stage of the rocket is also in orbit.

The specific scientific aim of this satellite is to gain information about the extent of cloud cover over the earth at a given time — information not fully obtainable by other means, particularly over isolated ocean areas.

2 Electronic Eyes
It is equipped with two electronic eyes, designed to measure the reflection of sunlight off clouds, land and sea masses over some 25 per cent of the earth's surface, mostly north of the equator.

This information will be relayed to earth by radio, and from this, scientists hope to get true pictures of the cloud cover situation during the anticipated two-weeks life of the batteries operating the scanning device.

Spurring a glowing trail of orange flame, the missile climbed steadily for some 10 seconds after the launching before knifing through a blanket of gray storm clouds.

The missile's behavior appeared to be perfect during the brief time that it was in sight.

It had begun to rain lightly just before blast time, but this did not affect the launching.

If all went well, the first-stage rocket would burn out at an altitude of 38 miles 24 minutes after launching.

The second stage—the guidance "brain" of Vanguard—then was to go into action for a full two minutes boosting the payload's speed to 9,000 miles per hour.

Castro Takes Over As Cuba's Premier

Rebel Chief Moves Quickly; Cuts His Cabinet's Pay; Orders Reopening of Gambling Casinos

Havana — Fidel Castro swung quickly into action as Cuba's premier today, officially charged with the responsibility as well as the power to carry out the social revolution he shaped as a soldier.

The bearded rebel fighter's first move as head of the government was to slash in half his own pay and those of cabinet ministers, approve reopening of gambling casinos and establish a new national lottery.

No Date Set

The old pay of the premier and cabinet ministers was $900 a month. They received other allowances which also were reduced.

No date was set immediately for reopening the casinos.

May Abandon Plans for Paris Talks

Washington Meeting About April 1 May Be Held Instead

Washington — The western powers may abandon tentative plans for a foreign ministers meeting at Paris next month in favor of a session in Washington about April 1.

The meeting of officials from the United States, Britain, France and West Germany had been arranged to work toward new proposals on German unification and European security in advance of a projected conference with Russia in late April or early May.

Active Role

If his health will permit, Sec. of State Dulles plans to take an active role in the shaping of western policy. He will be confined to Walter Reed hospital here for several weeks, at least, undergoing cancer treatment.

Diplomats said that a meeting of his western colleagues in Washington rather than Paris would permit some consultation with Dulles as well as with other top U. S. officials.

West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe told reporters at the state department yesterday it was also possible that preliminary work of diplomatic experts would be completed in time for the suggested mid-March assembly in Paris.

Foreign ministers of all the 15 North Atlantic Treaty countries are due here April 2 for a 10th anniversary celebration of the creation of NATO, and the meeting could well be held about that time.

Confere With Dulles

State department press officer Lincoln White announced last night that a special assistant, Joseph N. Greene, Jr., had spent a half hour with Dulles yesterday afternoon and that Greene had given him a brief oral summary of current developments in international affairs.

Dulles, who underwent a hernia operation last Friday, also left his bed and sat in a chair for about 30 minutes during the day.

White said that Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, Walter Reed commandant, had called in Dr. Gordon Zubrod, clinical director of the National Cancer Institute here. Dr. Zubrod will be consulted on the treatment and presumably will try to determine the extent of the abdominal glandular cancer found as a result of the hernia operation.

Newfoundland Stricken by Savage Storm

Six Persons Dead In Aftermath of Snow, High Winds

St. John's, Newfoundland — Newfoundland today faced a long, hard digging out after a savage blizzard which took six lives.

Communications and power generally had been restored. But provincial highways and most streets in this capital city were impassable, with drifts as thick as 21 feet.

The nearby U. S. and Canadian air force bases sent snow equipment to help the overburdened highway department.

The storm hit at midnight Sunday, with winds up to 135 miles an hour. The Avalon peninsula, southeastern tip of the province, caught the hardest blow. The peak came just before dawn, then the gale blew itself out.

Snowslide Kills 5

An hour after the storm struck, a snowslide plunged down a rock cliff near the entrance of St. John's harbor. Five persons in two homes were killed, and nine others were injured.

A second slide in the same area trapped a family of 11 in their house all night, but they were unhurt. Fifty families were evacuated from the area as a precaution.

A teenager, Shirley Lush, died of carbon monoxide poisoning when the car in which she and three friends had taken refuge was buried in snow in St. John's Memorial park.

Schools Closed

All schools were closed until further notice, and the city's fire department still was snowbound. Taxis were running but buses were idle.

The city's power was restored late yesterday after a 12-hour blackout. For most of the day a lone underwater cable was the only contact with mainland Canada. Newspapers did not publish, and radio and television stations were silent until afternoon.

Minuteman Program in Gear, Air Force Says

Flight Tests for Newest Missile May Be Held Next Year; Cite Advantages

Los Angeles — The air force says its program for the Minuteman, its second generation intercontinental ballistic missile, is rolling along.

Development schedules are being met, competition for the engine contracts will be concluded before next Jan. 1, for ballistic missiles from approximately 100 per Atlas or Titan to 7 for each Minuteman.

The new missile will be installed in hidden locations throughout the country. To deceive the enemy, the air force plans to build more minute-man holes than missiles. Occasionally, too, a missile may prove defective and worthless. In such cases, the faulty Minuteman may be kept in its hole, again for the purpose of deceiving the enemy.

The ballistic missiles division, in charge of all the air force long range rockets, sees these advantages for the Minuteman over ICBMs now in production:

The Advantages

1. It is smaller and lighter than the Atlas. The exact dimensions and weight are secret.
2. It will be more easily dispersed than liquid fueled missiles, lending itself more readily to the use of shelters that can not be knocked out readily by nuclear weapons.
3. Using a solid propellant, it will be capable of going into action almost instantaneously.
4. Its simplicity of design will greatly reduce the ground support facilities and manpower needed. Maintenance in the field will be unnecessary and the preliminary count-down or check out will not be needed.

Attempt to Pick Jury in Murder Case

Ventura, Calif. — Attorneys questioned other prospective jurors today after eight of the first 10 said they think Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan is guilty of murder.

Superior Judge Charles F. Blackstock again refused yesterday to move the trial to another county. Defense attorneys contend Mrs. Duncan, 54, cannot get a fair trial in Ventura county.

Mrs. Duncan, smiling frequently, appeared calm and confident in court. She is charged with hiring two men to kill her son's attractive bride Olga, 30. The victim was strangled.

The eight jurors who said they had formed an opinion adverse to Mrs. Duncan were excused. Selection of 12 jurors from a panel of 150 persons may take several days.

Sitting in the front row just behind the counsel table was the defendant's son, Frank, 31.

"I don't believe she is capable of the crime of which she is accused," he told reporters. "She has always told the same story and has insisted she is innocent."

Bail Set for Woman:

Mental Tests Sought For Mother's Slayer

Milwaukee — Authorities indicated today that a mental examination would be sought for Mrs. Lydia Tarasidis, 54, charged with first degree murder in the death of her 85-year-old mother.

Mrs. Tarasidis told police she garroted her mother, Mrs. Julie Saar, to avenge the death of her baby 30 or 35 years ago when they lived in Russia.

Mrs. Saar was found on the bedroom floor of her upper flat with two silk scarves twisted tightly around her neck.

Wants Interpreter

Judge Robert Hansen set bail for Mrs. Tarasidis at $25,000 and continued the case until today after her initial district court appearance Monday. Judge Hansen ordered the delay so an interpreter could be brought into court.

Detective Capt. John Nowakowski said Mrs. Tarasidis told him that before she was married 20 years ago she had a baby and her mother took it from her and "cut off its head."

Police also questioned George Saar Jr., 26, grandson of the victim and a nephew of Mrs. Tarasidis.

Saer said his aunt was rational and normal except on the subject of her husband's death for which she blamed her mother. Lazarus Tarasidis died last April of a kidney ailment. Saar did not believe that Mrs. Tarasidis ever had a child.

The family came to the United States in 1948 after fleeing Russia and spending some time in a displaced persons camp.

See New Action In Kohler Issue

Trial Examiner to Submit Fresh Set Of Recommendations

Washington — The national labor relations board said Monday a trial examiner is preparing new recommendations pertaining to the long Kohler company labor dispute with the United Auto Workers.

Examiner George A. Downing recommended more than a year ago that the Kohler company of Kohler, Wis., be held guilty of unfair labor charges brought by the union against the plumbingware firm in connection with a strike that began April 5, 1954, and still is going on.

However, the board never ruled on the case and ordered Downing to conduct new hearings, which were held.

An NLRB spokesman said he did not know how soon Downing's new report would be ready.

The new hearings were ordered after both sides to the dispute petitioned for further proceedings. This was done to include new material developed in testimony presented to the senate rackets investigating committee last year. Testimony included charges of violence attributed to the union.

Sen. Humphrey Offers Vast Youth-Aid Plan For U. S. Scholarships

Bill Would Cost $46 Million First Year, $184 Million Fourth Year

Washington — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) offered today an omnibus bill to provide 46,000 federally financed college scholarships annually in a vast youth-aid program.

His office estimated the cost of the scholarships at $46 million the first year, $82 million the second, $138 million the third and $184 million the fourth year. That would average $1,000 a year per student.

Under the bill, a $500 merit award would be provided to each scholarship winner, with additional scholarship funds up to a total of $1,500 a year available to individual students on the basis of need. The bill also would provide, as part of what Humphrey called a "youth opportunity" program:

1. A tuition income tax credit of up to $450 for parent or student paying tuition and other fees at a college or university. His office estimated the tax loss on this at from $250 million to $285 million a year.
2. An unspecified amount of federal aid for school construction and teachers' salaries.
3. Establishment within the department of health, education and welfare of a federal advisory council on juvenile delinquency with authority to spend 5 millions the first year, 7½ the second and 10 million the third on state and local programs.
4. A youth conservation project providing healthy, outdoor work in national parks and forests for boys in their late teens at a cost of $375 million a year for three years.

Joe Burns of Detroit, director of the UAW strike assistance program, said some 1,300 members of the UAW Local 248 had their assistance forms processed.

About 14,000 workers have been on strike at nine Allis-Chalmers plants in the U. S. and Canada since Feb. 2.

A calm wind has a velocity of less than a mile per hour. A very light wind blows at a speed of 1 to 3 mph. A light wind travels at 4 to 7 mph; a gentle wind 8 to 12; a moderate wind 13 to 18; a fresh wind 19 to 24; a strong wind 25 to 38; a gale 39 to 54, a "whole" gale 55 to 75. And a hurricane is any kind with a velocity of more than 75 mph.

Wisconsin has had tornadoes, too — some 230 since the 1843 when weather was first recorded in our state. Our worst tornado struck New Richmond, in St. Croix county, at 6.13 p. m. June 12, 1889. Five minutes later the Shakespeare alludes to this in his King Lear when he has Kent say: "Such smiling rogues renege, affirm, and turn their halcyon beaks with every gale."

People in the southern parts of the United States do not refer to blizzards as blizzards. They call them "northers." I believe Southerners use the term "blizzard" to describe a volley of shots from a gun. I find it used thus in the diary of Davey Crockett who wrote: "I took a blizzard (at one of two bucks), and he up and tumbled."

Chicago doesn't deserve the title "windy city" because its wind speed averages only 11 miles per hour. New York beats that with an average rate of 14.8 mph. Washington, which in some ways is pretty windy on capitol hill, has winds which average a velocity of only seven miles an hour. But the windiest weather station in America is at Mt. Washington, N. H., where the average velocity is 38.6 mph.

Here's the differences between the big winds:

A cyclone is a wind which circles about a center of low barometric pressure at the earth's surface. The wind moves spirally and inwardly toward the center. The cyclonic movement travels at 20 miles per hour or more. The circular movement is always counterclockwise in the northern hemisphere and clockwise in the southern.

A tornado is a storm along a path which is usually no more than a few hundred yards wide and 20 to 30 miles long. It is generally accompanied by a funnel-shaped cloud around which the wind revolve counter-clockwise. Sometimes a tornado rises from the surface of the earth and leaps whole areas.

Low Pressures

A hurricane is a tropical cyclone accompanied by low barometric pressures and high winds which attain a velocity of 100 MPH or more. It is either circular or oval in shape and it can cover an area of 300 miles or more in diameter. It travels usually west or northwest at about 15 miles an hour.

A monsoon is a period of wind of India and southeastern Asia which brings prolonged rains in the summer time. The summer monsoons come from the ocean to the land. The winter monsoons blow from the land to the ocean.

A typhoon is a violent whirlwind which occurs in the western Pacific ocean, almost always between the Philippine Islands and Japan. A "typhoon" in the north Atlantic is called a hurricane but whatever it is called, it is cyclonic.

BABA Playoffs Start Saturday

Marion — The division champion Marion city basketball team will meet Birnamwood in the BABA Northern division playoffs at Marion Saturday night. New London and Bonduel will play at New London Saturday.

The winners of the semi-finals will meet at 9 p.m. Sunday in Marion. The consolation game will be played at 7:30 p.m. The winner of the division playoff will meet Green Bay Reliance southern division winner Feb. 28 at the Fast DePere gym.

Marion ended the season with a big 81-50 win over Iola. Baner led the scoring with 21 points to bring his season total to 347.

Post-Crescent Photo

A Wistful Expression came over the face of Martin Blount, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Blount, 433 Bellaire court, as he eyed those boxes—and boxes—of candy. While he may not get his personal quota of candy, Martin does have foresight. For selling 60 boxes of candy, the boy earned a week's trip to YMCA Camp U-Nah-Li-Ya this summer.

Wisconsin's Health

Cirrhosis of Liver One of Top Death Cases in State

By Carl N. Neupert, M.D.
State Health Officer

One of Wisconsin's (and the nation's) top death causes is seldom discussed, receives relatively little publicity, and is not yet completely understood.

This disease is cirrhosis of the liver, which in 1957 ranked as the 11th leading cause of death in Wisconsin (10th in the U S) and claimed a total of 250 lives. This high loss of life exceeded by 10 per cent the total number of deaths due to lung cancer in the state.

One possible reason for the relative lack of interest in cirrhosis of the liver is its association with alcoholism. Most estimates place fatal cases due to excessive drinking far advanced anywhere from one-half to two-thirds of the total. Some authorities claim it is a factor in as many as 80 per cent of the fatalities. Thus, removing the cause of the disease is, in most cases, the key to its cure. When this is alcohol, the problem becomes one of curing the

The best hope for curing the disease lies in early diagnosis especially if the toxic substance causing it can be eliminated. High protein and high vitamin diets often are helpful in correcting the condition, providing it is not too far advanced.

Liver Damage
Cirrhosis of the liver is the result of damage caused by certain substances toxic to this vital organ. These substances injure liver cells which subsequently die and are replaced by scar tissue. Eventually, the damaged areas interfere with the circulation of blood in the liver.

RELAXATION TIME U.S.A.

There's
that starts
today

There is a restful time at the edge of evening that spreads a soft and suffusing calm over the press of all tomorrows. It is the well-earned hour of pleasant pastimes and reflections, the slowly-savored hour when Americans relax and then enjoy a drink or two of the most famous whiskey the world has ever known.

Mr. Reynolds States a New Rule

When Atty. Gen. John W. Reynolds told the board of regents of state colleges last week he will not represent any state colleges or the university in any case where the facts indicate academic freedom is being violated, he stirred up a controversy which already has echoed in the legislature and may go much further before it is settled.

The statement came as the regents were about to ask the attorney general's help in getting a review of a decision by the supreme court. The court ordered the regents to reinstate Dr. George Ball as a teacher at Superior State college or grant him a new hearing.

The Ball case has been reviewed again and again in the news columns. He had been charged with inefficiency and bad behavior by President Jim Dan Hill, of the college, and the president had been supported in discharging him by the regents.

The supreme court was divided, 4 to 3, on the decision and the board was encouraged to seek a review of the case, particularly since the regents found what they believed to be misstatements of fact in the majority opinion. The alleged misstatements were that the witnesses for Ball had been accorded different treatment from those for Hill and that Hill was present when some of the witnesses were quizzed by the regents.

The regents thought it important to correct those misstatements, but Reynolds was not impressed. He advised the board to comply with the court order and he laid down his policy for the future in these words: "In those cases where academic freedom, in my judgment, is being violated, I shall notify the governor so that the school involved may obtain special counsel and the attorney general's office will enter those cases as a friend of the court on the side of academic freedom. I could not in good conscience do otherwise."

The Post-Crescent has no interest in deciding the guilt or the innocence of Dr. Ball or of any other state employee who now or later may be in a similar situation. But it is interested, as everyone in the state must be, in the agencies which are charged with seeing that justice is done. The attorney general's office is one of those agencies, and the attorney general's statement has opened many questions which should be answered.

Is the attorney general required to give legal assistance to state boards and commissions? If so, is it to all such boards or only to those acting in line with the attorney general's personal ideas of propriety? Is it his duty to make the policy of all such boards conform with his own ideas? If Reynolds cannot act "in good conscience" does he think it proper to hire an attorney with a "bad conscience" to handle the case?

Is the state to be put in the position of supporting the state's legal office in a fight on one side of a case while at the same time hiring lawyers to take the other side? If all of those notions win the approval of the legislature (which prescribes the duties of the attorney general) how is Reynolds going to decide on which side of the case academic freedom lies? Will that determination not be the reason for going to court in the first place in many cases?

The lawyers and the judge are having a field day with this case. We have a feeling that some of them are trying to make political headway by their stands. If so, it is the wrong thing to do. Everybody we know is in favor of academic freedom, and many people, including those on the board of regents, have as strong a feeling on this matter as does the attorney general.

But academic freedom and its abuse are as important to the pupils as they are to the teachers. A reader recently asked us to review this case. Noting that Ball had been fired for inefficiency, he asked, "Do our laws sacrifice our pupils for such a teacher?" That's a good question. Those who are charged with the duty of deciding this matter should remember that it is indeed important that any teacher in Ball's position has a fair trial but they should also remember that it is equally important, perhaps more important, that we do not load our schools with inefficient teachers because we are acting for political or emotional reasons.

'Dream Air Terminal' Idea

Editor, Post-Crescent:
The story, "A Dream Air Terminal Could Be Built," in the January 1 issue of the Appleton Post-Crescent, has been read with great interest.

The close proximity and good highway access to the entire Appleton business and residential area makes the Outagamie county airport site a highly ideal location for an airport facility.

Family Gives
Thanks to Those Who Came to Aid

Editor, Post-Crescent:
This is an open letter to the public on behalf of the DeVon Smith family.

January 23, 1959, is a date that the DeVon Smith family will never forget, nor care to remember.

This is the date that the Smith lost all of their worldly possessions. They lost their home, furnishings, all of their clothes, treasured keepsakes, and the million and one things that only the person that has them can put a value on.

Today, through the efforts of the people in the Fox Cities, the radio stations, the newspapers and others connected with the tragedy, the Smiths can once more look forward to starting over.

They have received furnishings, clothes, money, and food. At Christmas, Dawn, age 6, had received a glamorous doll, complete with fur piece, high heels and all of the other accessories. At the last count, she has received five dolls.

Les, age 5, had received a complete tool chest. Today he has another one, along with other toys that make a little boy's world happy. It is almost like Christmas all over again for them.

Since the Smiths can't thank each person separately, their hearts are filled with gratitude to each and everyone. They hope that some day they can do as much for someone else, and in the same breath, hope to God, that no one else suffers the fate they did.

across U. S. Highway 41, if need be, is entirely practical.

Combining air-rail terminal facilities would require very careful investigation, and a determination that both forms of transportation were being fully and adequately provided for before the air-rail terminal idea should be allowed to jell.

In the event that these activities could not be combined, there is no reason why separate structures could not be developed — one for air and one for rail — at the best locations for each, since the distance that passengers would have to move between them would be small and the inconvenience of little consequence.

In planning air terminal buildings, plenty of room must be left for expansion, and it should be fully appreciated that these buildings are subject to very high obsolescence. Any terminal building that is 20 years old today is obsolete and overcrowded, and probably has been expanded two or three times; and we may expect the same thing to happen to new buildings in the future and should plan accordingly.

Vertical-rising and short-takeoff aircraft will certainly be developed and used commonly for scheduled air service in the future. Undoubtedly the changes required to bring this type of aircraft into general use will be slow and gradual, and the Outagamie site will lend itself very well to such aircraft and their integration in airline service.

It is good to see constructive and forward-looking thinking taking place with respect to the Outagamie county airport, and especially so at this time, in view of the negative opinions that have been directed at the airport by some groups.

Handicapped Need
More Than Money

From a Report of the State Department of Public Welfare

The public assistance programs, established in the depression days of economic catastrophe, naturally and properly placed emphasis on providing cash income to meet immediate needs. Today, we recognize that we have a deeper duty to those in need than solely payment of cash benefits. For many persons disabled to the point where they have little hope of supporting themselves or their families, we must assume the responsibility of offering services leading to self-care. Others receiving public assistance are capa-

Discrimination the Quiet Way

The Soviet Union makes a practice of pointing to discrimination by race, color or creed in other countries. Several years ago it signed with a flourish the United Nations Genocide convention. But behind the loud self-praise there is a veritable dungeon full of dirty deeds. The treatment of the Jews in Russia in recent years is a case in point.

When Israel became a nation in 1947, the Soviet Union supported the United Nations resolution creating the new nation and recognized its government diplomatically. Until then, authorities in Russia had insisted that the idea of a Jewish state was an imperialistic design, so something had to be done to explain away the discrepancies. I. A. Genin published in 1948 The Palestine Problem. He quoted Andrei Gromyko on the necessity for establishment of Israel, and belabored the "seven armed Arab countries united by the Arab League" which deplorably attempted to "annihilate the Jewish state . . ."

But then someone in the Kremlin must have realized what a potent force for prospective Communist dupes were the disorganized people in the Middle East, casting off the chains of colonialism with little to replace them for stability. Systematic discrimination against the state of Israel and the three million Jews within Russia began. These never took the form of earlier hideous pogroms or were as loudly done as Hitler's attempt to wipe out the Jewish people, but the results are significant.

In the 1930's there were 1,500 Yiddish schools with about 150,000 pupils. Today there are none, and neither Jewish history nor culture is permitted to be taught. The quota of Jews admitted to Russian universities is considerably lower than under the czars. In the 1930's there were 20 Yiddish newspapers, a dozen Jewish theaters, honored authors, actors, scientists and government officials among Jews. Today there is one Yiddish weekly published in the Jewish state of Birobidzhan, but banned in Moscow. There is no Jewish publishing house or theater and Jews have been eased out of the government so that only two remain on the central committee. The Russian Bible was printed in 1926 and the Koran in 1958, but the Hebrew Bible has not been printed since the Revolution.

The height of discrimination and the search for scapegoats occurred in the alleged plot of Jewish doctors against Stalin. Although it was later repudiated as a fake, some 500 Jewish intellectuals disappeared and their leaders, as well as the doctors, were executed. The charges emphasized the attempt of the group to create a Jewish state in the Crimea as "a war base against the Soviet Union" and at the bequest of the "Jewish American Joint Distribution committee."

The purges and propaganda gave the Russians a weapon to use in their wooing of the Arabs. Their 1958 version of the war between Israel and the Arabs insists that "the military failures of the courageously embattled Arabs were the result of transitory historical circumstance and the absence, among the Arabs, of unity of aim and action." One wonders what became of apologist Genin.

The Soviet Union now pressures in Iraq, Syria, Egypt, Aden and everywhere else where the Arabs are looking for leadership to supply that "unity of aim and action." But the Jews in Russia especially are paying the price.

What Others are Saying

Alabama Provocative in Defiance of Voting Rights

From The Denver Post

Southern extremists received sound and timely advice from another southerner recently. But instead of behaving moderately as he suggested, they decided instead to test the power and the determination of the federal government.

The quick reaction of the administration was a justice department announcement that it will ask federal courts to order defiant Alabama officials to produce voting records sought thus far in vain, by the 6-man U. S. Civil Rights commission.

The commission is gathering evidence that it is very difficult for a Negro to register and vote in some Alabama counties.

This new judicial showdown is just what the southerner mentioned above, John S. Battle, former Virginia governor and now a member of the commission, sought to avoid.

warned, will merely add fuel to demands for more severe and far-reaching civil rights legislation. He is right, of course, but Fabius-type lawlessness is being encouraged by John Patterson, Alabama governor — elect, and voices raised in reason are not likely to be heard in that state at this time.

Nothing could be plainer than the authority of the commission to subpoena witnesses, require testimony and subpoena records.

The fifteenth Amendment to the U. S. constitution says the right of citizens to vote shall not be denied on account of race and says congress shall have the power to enforce that provision.

From 1875 to 1957, congress made no effort to pass enabling legislation under the amendment.

The 1957 act, setting up the investigative Civil Rights commission and providing for the enforcement of voting rights through civil court injunctive processes, was as mild and inoffensive a bill as could be devised.

Southerners like Senators Johnson and Yarborough of Texas and Senators of Florida voted for it.

Defiance of the duly constituted Civil Rights commission by Alabama officials is deliberately provocative — like a punch in the nose given to a policeman who is conscientiously carrying out his duties.

The justice department's prompt action will make it clear that neither the commission, congress or the constitution are to be ignored just to placate extremists.

adjourns it leaves behind the carcasses of hundreds — nearly a thousand — proposals that were introduced and printed, but never were seriously considered.

Laws are adopted in Wisconsin because representative groups of citizens want them — and the rest of the body politic is at least passively acquiescent.

The important news of the legislature is what happens to a bill after its introduction — in the committee, in the preliminary roll calls, and in the amendment process.

Nor are the hearings especially significant. There have been some questions raised lately about the reasons why a measure appears to be stalled in spite of a preponderance of favorable witnesses at a hearing. Filling a hearing room is comparatively easy.

The legislative process is not a plebiscite. It is a matter of deliberation. The member of a committee and a member of either house is required by his constitutional duty and his own practical sense of political preservation to remember the interests of all of his constituents — even if they didn't come to Madison in person. Personal representation, all other things being equal, is a useful thing. But it is rarely conclusive.

Hire Planner
For Green Bay
Business Area

From The Green Bay Press Gazette

Gregby, Inc. an organization of Green Bay businessmen and property owners, interested in the planning and development of Green Bay, has signed a contract with Victor Gruen Associates to prepare a master plan for the development of the central business district of the city.

Victor Gruen Associates is a well known architectural firm which is especially noted for its planning of shopping centers and for applying the principles of shopping center development to the downtown districts of American cities. The purpose of this study will be to find a way to protect the downtown from the loss of business due to the inconvenience and overcrowding that has come to all cities with the growth of the motor car as a means of transportation.

So many plans have been drawn for the improvement of Green Bay in the past and so little has come of them that there is danger that this one will be regarded by many as just another. That would be a mistake for there are many reasons why this piece of planning should be more effective than the others.

This is not a plan that will be paid for by the taxpayers because a civic group secured it through pressure upon the city fathers. On the contrary, it is a plan ordered by a group of business men with a definite problem to solve. Further, it is being ordered after more than two years of preliminary study and it is to be paid for by the business men who see the need for it and are convinced it will prove a good investment.

Since the chief problem is to make the business places in the downtown area readily accessible to shoppers the obvious place to start is with streets and parking. A proper arrangement of streets and well located parking areas are essential features to attract shoppers and serve their convenience. The area under consideration is that which is measured east and west from the Fox river to Monroe avenue and north and south from Cedar street to Doty street.

Lawrence Says:
Dulles Has Four Possible
Successors

Dominant Role Seen
For Policy Head
Despite Illness

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — There'll be a successor in due time to John Foster Dulles as secretary of state, but—unless he really becomes incapacitated—he will remain a dominant figure in the making of world policy for the administration.

The new secretary of state, whoever he may be, will be consulting with and working with Dulles. For nobody else has the background or the knowledge of world affairs that the present secretary of state carries in his head.

Speculation as to a successor to Dulles is not of the usual kind. Normally a cabinet officer resigns and leaves the government completely. But in going over the possible appointments, it is necessary to consider who will work harmoniously with the president and Dulles.

For, while the ultimate decisions will continue to be made in the future, as in the past, by the president, the advice on which those decisions are based would get quicker clearance if it had the approval of Dulles as well as of the new secretary of state.

Odds Against Dulles
Dulles may come out of his present siege of illness able to carry on certain activities. The odds are against it. But the secretary has upset the odds before and may do it again. He has carried on his job heroically in recent weeks despite excruciating pain. If he is able to do so, he wants very much to attend the next four-power conference of foreign ministers and then ease up on his work.

Assuming, however, that a new man takes over eventually, who will be the third member of the triumvirate that would make world policy for the United States?

Herter Knows Foreign Affairs
First in order of consideration, naturally, is Christian Herter, the undersecretary of state. He has an excellent background in foreign affairs. Unfortunately, he has an arthritic condition and occasionally has to use crutches or a wheel chair. He could not travel around as much as Dulles has found it necessary to do in the fast-moving world of events.

Next there's former senator Henry Cabot Lodge, now the top man for this country in the United Nations. He speaks French fluently, has sparred and debated with diplomats from all over the world. He has been attending cabinet meetings whenever they dealt primarily with international affairs. He, too, harmonizes with Dulles.

Former Ambassador
Then there is Douglas Dillon, deputy undersecretary of state for economic affairs. He was formerly ambassador to France, also speaks French fluently and has an excellent diplomatic and economic background.

There's a fourth name which comes up again and again in the conversations here about a possible successor to Dulles. It's that of Thomas E. Dewey, former governor of New York state and twice the presidential candidate of the Republican party. He helped Eisenhower get his first nomination in 1952, and he helped Vice President Nixon to win renomination in 1956 over Harold Stassen's rebellion. He has been functioning lately as an international lawyer in private practice—a field in which Dulles himself engaged for several years.

There is one hitch. Dewey has a positiveness of personality which comes from having been in official positions where he has been giving rather than taking orders and that hence he wouldn't work as well in a team as some of the others mentioned.

Close Friends
He and Dulles, however, are the closest of friends. It was Gov. Dewey who appointed John Foster Dulles to be United States senator from New York when a vacancy occurred in 1949.

If Dulles can play the role only of a part-time adviser and it becomes necessary for the new secretary of state himself to do the work abroad of personal contact and face-to-face diplomacy, then the chances for the appointment of Tom Dewey, Henry Cabot Lodge or Douglas Dillon would seem to increase.

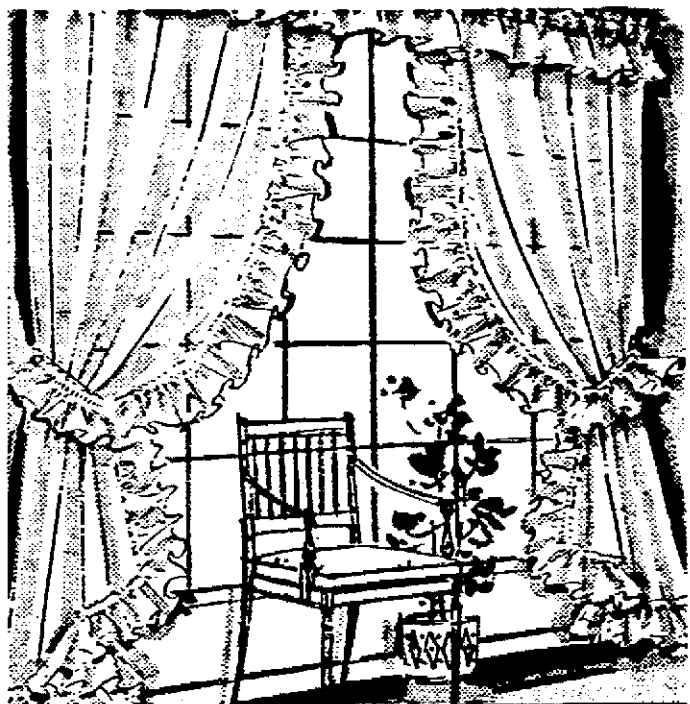

But John Foster Dulles may surprise everybody—by continuing to play a dominant part in the future operation of the world policies he has helped so much to make.

No Major Highway Building Until '62

Super 41 Takes Most of State Funds, Engineer Explains

There will be no major highway reconstruction or relocation projects on most highways leading to and from Appleton for at least four years, the Appleton Chamber of Commerce's new streets and highways committee learned Monday.

Leroy Empey, Green Bay district engineer for the state highway commission, said the monies already committed and which will be committed to the Highway 41 construction to near the north Outagamie county line prohibit any other major highway work.

There is a limit to the highway funds available to the state and to units within the state, hence the Fox Cities area cannot expect other areas to do without while highways are rebuilt in this area, Empey explained.

41 Work Vital
In the judgment of the highway commission, reconstruction and relocation of super-highway 41 into a 4-lane limited-access roadway is vital to this area and has been scheduled ahead of any other work, Empey indicated. Plans call for completion of 41—a 13-mile relocation from Highway 10 to north of Kaukauna is the final stage—by 1962. After this, Empey said, there may be plans for other major road construction here.

The Green Bay district office is drawing up some long-range plans of needs in the entire district up to 1964 so the highway commission can plan its allocation of funds, but the plans are not past the generalized stage, the engineer indicated.

Highways 10, 45, 47
The chamber's committee wanted to talk to Empey about Highways 10, 45 and 47, major arteries into the city from all directions.

Empey indicated that engineering studies are in progress on Highway 47 north from Appleton to Black Creek. It has been definitely decided, Empey said, not to relocate Highway 47 over the route now covered by County Trunk A. Outagamie county had deferred work on A for several years, awaiting the state's decision, reached after an origin and destination study. The county work has now been scheduled.

Highway 45 will be resurfaced and spot corrections (removing visual obstacles, easing curves) made between Hortonville and New London this summer. No major reconstruction between Greenville and Hortonville is planned at present, Empey indicated. Last summer saw the reconstruction of Hortonville's Main street, (Highway 45).

Highway 10
Highway 10 west from Appleton to Fremont and south of the city to Waverly beach is not under study, although Empey indicated the state was aware of the high-density traffic south of the city. Empey indicated that nothing could be expected on either stretch of highway until after the Highway 41 completion.

Empey told committee members the state was determined to make more origin and destination studies to show which of the three roads need major reconstruction, but that for at least four years there would be little actual construction.

Empey added that part of the state funds for the Appleton area would be committed in the next few years to a widening and resurfacing project on Highway 10 in Appleton — Badger avenue and Seymour street, both nearing the end of useful lives as heavy traffic carriers.

The committee was set up by the chamber to discuss highways approaching Appleton, to find out state plans and discuss them in relation to the city's needs

Prairie du Chien Man Gets 5-Year Sentence
Prairie du Chien—Donald L. Kolowski, 22, Prairie du Chien, Monday was sentenced to four concurrent 5-year reformatory terms on conviction of burglary, forgery and auto theft.

Kolowski appeared before Circuit Judge Richard Orton.

Authorities said Kolowski, arrested at Perryville, Mo., Feb. 6, stole one automobile from a local garage Feb. 4 and wrecked the vehicle. Later the same day he returned and stole another automobile and drove to Missouri with a female companion.

Can't Agree on Civil Service Pay Revision

Personnel Bureau Union Turn Down Nelson Compromise

Madison — The state bureau of personnel and the Wisconsin State Employees association were at an impasse Monday on a proper schedule of pay revision for some 15,000 state employees working under the civil service laws.

The difference came despite a personal effort by Gov. Gaylord Nelson to bring them together on a compromise program.

The governor adjourned a conference of the personnel department and the employees' union officers with a declaration that he will make another effort to work out a pay boost plan that is mutually agreeable.

He has announced that he has made provision for such a plan in his executive budget, but the distribution of the money proposals among various pay brackets evidently will be a difficult problem to negotiate.

The governor has proposed an over-all increase in state payrolls of about 4 per cent for civil servants. The state is now spending about $75,000,000 a year in wages and salaries for the classified service. Total state payrolls now exceed $100,000,000 a year.

The bureau plan as presented by Director Karl Wettengel would preserve the present percentage differentials in state employee classifications, by proposing boosts ranging from $10 a month for the lower paid classifications, to $50 for the upper grades. The employees want $20 a month for the lower brackets and a top boost of $55, with intermediate grades raised correspondingly. The union plan would cost about $1,717,000 a year more than the $2,627,000 asked by the bureau.

The increases, however approved, would be effective on July 1.

GOP Claims Nelson Plans Bank Tax Hike

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The Republican state committee suggested that the Democratic state administration is preparing legislation to boost state taxation of banks and other financial institutions

"From all reports, banks and other financial institutions will not be happy with Gov. Nelson's plans to close what he alleges are 'loopholes' in our tax system," said the weekly bulletin from GOP state headquarters to local party officers and leaders.

The governor has said he is preparing tax "revision" to pick up about $9,000,000 a year in tax income to close a prospective deficit in his first year budget, but he has not offered details. He has said, however, that the bills under preparation were endorsed by the state department of taxation

Former Cutler-Hammer Head Dies in Florida

Milwaukee — Henry F. Vogt, 79, former chairman of the board of Cutler-Hammer, Inc., died of a heart attack at St. Petersburg, Fla., it was learned here Monday.

Vogt joined the firm in 1900, resigned as chairman in 1955 but remained a member of the board. He was a director of several corporations.

Man Inadequate

Expensive, Electronic Air Defense Commands Take Over for Filters

BY JAMES BARTELT
Post-Crescent News Service

Sawyer Air Force Base, Mich. — A visit to this growing North American air defense command field in the sand country near the Lake Superior port of Marquette provides the answer to what is replacing the Green Bay filter center and others like it across the United States which ceased operations Jan. 31.

The visit also leaves you with something of an inferiority complex. The fact is that filter centers closed because man can't see far enough, can't communicate fast force doesn't talk in specifics about the part of the sector to the north.

But if bombers ever come over the north pole, air battles over northeastern Wisconsin and the lower Fox valley would be controlled from the building at Sawyer. SAGE also has the ability to receive information from other sectors or furnish it. Adjacent sectors are controlled from Duluth, Madison, Chicago, and Detroit.

Interceptor planes controlled by this direction center would be those from Sawyer, Sault Ste. Marie, and from Wurtsmith Air base, near Oscoda, Mich., half-way up the Lake Huron shore from Detroit. In time, some of these planes will be equipped with something called data-link equipment which will actually fly them from the Sawyer direction center.

The pilot will take off, and SAGE will fly him to his target. A hum in his earphones will tell him everything is working. Once he gets to his target and finishes his job, SAGE will take over and fly him home. He will have to land himself, however.

The SAGE direction center at Sawyer is housed in a 3-floor 120,000-square foot building which would make an architect shudder. It has no windows and its gray outer walls are solid concrete.

The building is supposed to be able to take anything but a direct hit from an atomic bomb. It cost $5,000,000, nearly three times as much as Green Bay's new 6-floor city hall.

Nelson Backs Reynolds in Firing Dispute

Declines to Discuss Academic Freedom Aspect of Ball Case

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Gov. Gaylord Nelson Monday declined to interfere in the furious dispute between Atty. Gen. John W. Reynolds and the board of regents of state colleges over dismissal of a Superior State college professor.

Nelson, however, supported Reynolds, commenting that he was within his rights in refusing to carry on a case in which he feels his client is wrong.

Nelson would not say whether he feels Reynolds is justified in calling the dispute about Prof. George Ball one involving academic freedom. The Ball case and the political developments stemming from it currently are one of the hottest controversies in capital affairs.

Nelson told reporters Monday he would appoint special legal counsel for the board if it wants to pursue the suit in north in Canada, and areas off the coasts are divided. Texas towers out in the ocean, radar picket ships, three radar lines across Canada, and radar stations across the United States will provide the intelligence for the electronic computers.

How about spending this kind of money when all the direction is toward missiles is an obvious question.

"The computer has the capability of guiding missiles at remote locations, assuming that fighter aircraft phase out," is the pointed answer of Lt. Col. Harry Christman Jr., deputy commander of SAGE at Sawyer.

Brain Center

The direction center at Sawyer will be the brain for the Sault Ste. Marie air defense sector. This covers Upper Michigan and northern Wisconsin, (except for an area controlled from Duluth) the northern half of Lower Michigan, and the air over Lake Superior and north into Canada. Understandably, the air force doesn't talk in specifics about the part of the sector to the north.

But if bombers ever come over the north pole, air battles over northeastern Wisconsin and the lower Fox valley would be controlled from the building at Sawyer. SAGE also has the ability to receive information from other sectors or furnish it. Adjacent sectors are controlled from Duluth, Madison, Chicago, and Detroit.

Interceptor planes controlled by this direction center would be those from Sawyer, Sault Ste. Marie, and from Wurtsmith Air base, near Oscoda, Mich., half-way up the Lake Huron shore from Detroit. In time, some of these planes will be equipped with something called data-link equipment which will actually fly them from the Sawyer direction center.

The pilot will take off, and SAGE will fly him to his target. A hum in his earphones will tell him everything is working. Once he gets to his target and finishes his job, SAGE will take over and fly him home. He will have to land himself, however.

The SAGE direction center at Sawyer is housed in a 3-floor 120,000-square foot building which would make an architect shudder. It has no windows and its gray outer walls are solid concrete.

The building is supposed to be able to take anything but a direct hit from an atomic bomb. It cost $5,000,000, nearly three times as much as Green Bay's new 6-floor city hall.

Once inside, statistics and specifications tossed about are almost too much to grasp.

Electronic Equipment

The building will have 175 tons of electronic equipment, it has 1,200 tons of air conditioning equipment, and air also has to be filtered dust-free because of the sensitive electronic computers. The power plant for the building generates enough power for a city of 10,000 population.

There is enough telephone terminal equipment inside the building to take care of a city the size of Appleton and still have some left over. The computers in the direction center will have a total of 56,000 vacuum tubes. The computers develop enough heat to furnish 45 houses when the temperature outside is 20 below zero.

Should the air conditioning fail and the computer not be stopped, the temperature on the computer floor would be 150 degrees in two minutes.

As noted earlier, the whole SAGE business in this building has a price tag of $30,000,000. That's more than five times the money needed to operate Green Bay and its schools for one year.

ic freedom issues are at stake.

Nelson also reported that he is meeting regularly with the Democratic legislative council on his legislative objectives, and that he has sent word to Republican leaders that he is equally ready to discuss his program with them.

On another situation he replied indirectly to a recent blast by former Republican Gov. Vernon Thomson and noted that he has at least 28 non-statutory advisory committees of various sorts, some of which have no written records or terms of office, and one of which owe their existence to his actions.

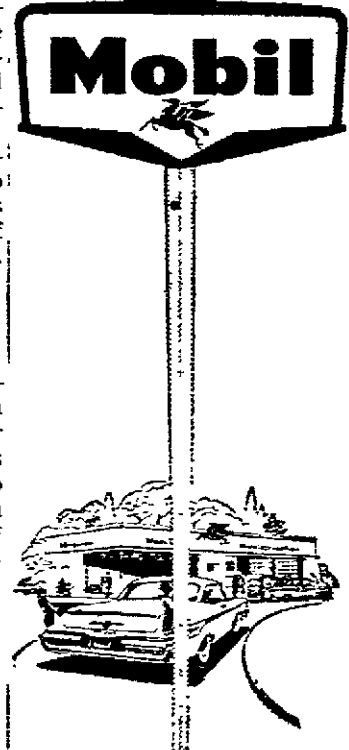

Thomson recently complained that Nelson has so many committees that he has had to name a special staff aide to keep account of them.

Police Put Teeth Into Their Bark

Want to Raise Delinquent?
Here are 12 Rules to Follow

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I don't think I have ever read anything in your column which was printed elsewhere, but I hope you will make an exception in this case because the enclosed is something every parent should see. The following was reportedly prepared by the police department of Houston, Texas. Here are Twelve Rules for Raising Delinquent Children:

1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up to believe the world owes him a living.
2. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute. It will also encourage him to pick up "cuter" phrases that will blow off the top of your head later.
3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait till he is 21 and then let him decide for himself.
4. Avoid use of the word "wrong." It may develop a guilt complex. This will condition him to believe, later, when he is arrested for stealing a car, that society is against him and he is being persecuted.
5. Pick up everything he leaves lying around — books, shoes and clothing. Do everything for him so he will be experienced in throwing all responsibility on to others.
6. Let him read any printed matter he can get his hands on. Be careful that the silverware and drinking glasses are sterilized, but let his mind money he wants. Never feast on garbage. Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children. In this way they will not be too shocked when the home is broken up later. 7. Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children. In this way they will not be too shocked when the home is broken up later. 8. Give a child all the spend-sterilized, but let his mind money he wants. Never feast on garbage. Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children. In this way they will not be too shocked when the home is broken up later. 9. Satisfy his every craving for food, drink, and comfort. See that every sensual desire is gratified. Deniel may lead to harmful frustration.

10. Take his part against neighbors, teachers and policemen. They are 'all prejudiced against your child.

11. When he gets into real trouble, apologize for yourself by saying "I never could do anything with him."

12. Prepare for a life of grief. You will be apt to have it.

School District Has Valentine Party

Women Drivers Speak Up Cars Too Big, Lack of Parking Area Top Housewives' Gripes

The American housewife is the most over-worked, under-paid chauffeur in the world and each day she faces driving problems that are far more onerous than those which confront the average male driver.

She spends a substantial amount of her time each week in a multitude of short trips involving stop-and-go driving and more often than not is faced with a parking problem when she arrives at her destination.

And based on her career as a chauffeur she has some very definite and specific ideas as to what is wrong with today's automobiles and what the driving situations which can be done to simplify her life. And, constructive daily driving chores and to ly, what does she feel would make them more pleasant. be the ideal family automobile.

The survey showed that the heaviest use of the family car is for shopping. At least 98 per cent of those polled used the car mainly for going to the store.

Next in importance on the list showing "car usage" are trips to meetings — the woman's club, Red Cross, church activities and such. 89 per cent of those interviewed need auto transportation in meeting their social and civic needs.

The third ranking car-use by women is in taking the children to parties, to church plays or meetings and the like. Then — as was to be expected — nearly half of those use the car to drive the children to and from school.

Stop-Go Driving
The rest of car-driving time is spent taking her husband to the railroad station in the morning and meeting him again at night. There — with the exception of a few miscellaneous trips to the hardware store, the post office and such—you have a pretty fair and accurate picture of the car-driving habits of housewives.

The one salient fact: the housewife's driving for the most part involves short distances stop-and-go driving—and more often than not with the need to park her car at the end of any given trip around town.

What about the major problems the woman motorist encounters each day as she performs those daily trips from home in the interest of the family's health and welfare?

Cars too Big
What are her major criticisms of present day cars and day driving.

Madison Expert to Lead 'Y' Nursery Education Series

A nursery education refresher course has been scheduled at the Appleton YMCA. The 4-part series will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., beginning Feb. 23, and on succeeding fourth Mondays of March, April and May.

The course has been specifically designed to aid staff members, officials and teachers who are connected with nursery schools in the Fox Valley.

Participants will include representatives of the YMCA Pla-School, Appleton Cooperative Nursery school, Neenah YWCA Nursery school and Green Bay Cooperative Nursery school.

Madison Expert Speaker

Mrs. Margaret B. Connet, Madison, consultant on day care division of children and youth, will be course instructor. Her experience in this field includes the establishment of a private nursery school in New Haven, Conn., under the advisement of Dr. Arnold Gessell and staff; serving as head teacher for the three-year-old nursery group at Child Education foundation in New York City, and as director of college nursery school in charge of teacher training. Centenary college for Women, Hackettstown, N. J.

The speaker has worked with the exceptional child at

Couple Entertains At Valentine Event

Mr. and Mrs. William Stack-er, Jr., 1000 Red Oak lane, entertained at a Valentine party Saturday evening at their home for friends and neighbors.

The birthdays of Mrs. Stack-er and Harold Aykens were also celebrated. There was dancing and refreshments were served.

Augustana college, Rock Island, Ill., has served as nursery school director for the Pennsylvania association for the Blind, Philadelphia, and has taught physically handicapped youngsters and those afflicted with cerebral palsy.

Mrs. Connet holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Kansas and a master's degree from the University of Chicago and has studied at Yale School of Fine Arts.

Registrations are now being accepted by Mrs. Maxine Van- evenhoven, YMCA women's and girls' program director.

Name Fox Valley Residents to Music Group at Lawrence

Three Fox Valley residents have been elected to offices in Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national music fraternity on the Lawrence campus. They are: Donald Tyrivier, Neenah, vice-president; Lawrence Strieby, 616 E. Circle street, treasurer, and Robert Voss, Oshkosh, not knowing—really knowing—how to groom their locks.

Wedding, Reception in Sky, Not 'For the Birds'

Honolulu — (U. S. — Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Willis landed to day after being married in an airliner over the Pacific ocean halfway between San Francisco and Hawaii.

Both are professional singers and they met in an airplane on a similar flight to Honolulu last year.

Their honeymoon trip is the gift of Transocean air lines, a Hawaiian hotel and Los Angeles stores.

Willis and the former Regina Douglas, both 28, were still wearing formal wedding

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Somebody We All Know

Do you recognize this character? She has a top hair style and permanent, but her head always looks as if it just came out of a wind machine? There are many such dam- ners in our midst and the ex- planation for their plight is not knowing—really knowing—how to groom their locks.

Let's end this tangle. Here are the means:

Shampoo and set before the need becomes apparent. Ditto between settings.

Defeat stragglers on the neck by applying a wisp stick or control spray.

For overcoming dry or stubborn locks, use a creamy dressing. It comes in spray, tube and jar form—in other words, the type used is yours to command.

To hold heavy or out-of-curl sections, use grip-tooth combs and bobbies. But do insert them so as not to show. Show- ing, they look more horri- fying than a Boris Karloff mov- ie.

Never fail to check the back of your hair. Not unless you want your front and rear views to tell unpleasantly con- flicting stories.

emony in the lounge of the double-deck strato-cruiser.

They were met by his par- ents, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Wil- lis of Sherman Oaks, Calif., who were celebrating their 35th wedding anniversary.

The bride met Willis aboard a Honolulu-bound airliner a year ago. She is a naturalized U. S. citizen from Germany. Willis' home is at Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y.

Girls Say Bowling Has Its Advantages

Is bowling a girl's sport? That's the question that bothers one teen-ager whose mother says it is not a ladylike sport for her offspring.

It all depends on one's point of view. Estimates are that more than a half million young people in the country, girls and boys, now engage in the sport. Its acceptance really depends on one's own community, so if a girl lives in an area where girls fish, water ski, roller skate and ice skate, there may be no parental barrier to bowling.

"Snowpins" — On the other hand, if all the girls go to sewing bees and knit and crochet in their spare time, a girl bowler may look a little rough around the edges.

It is such a popular game for girls bowlers? Here are some gleaned from girls who like the sport:

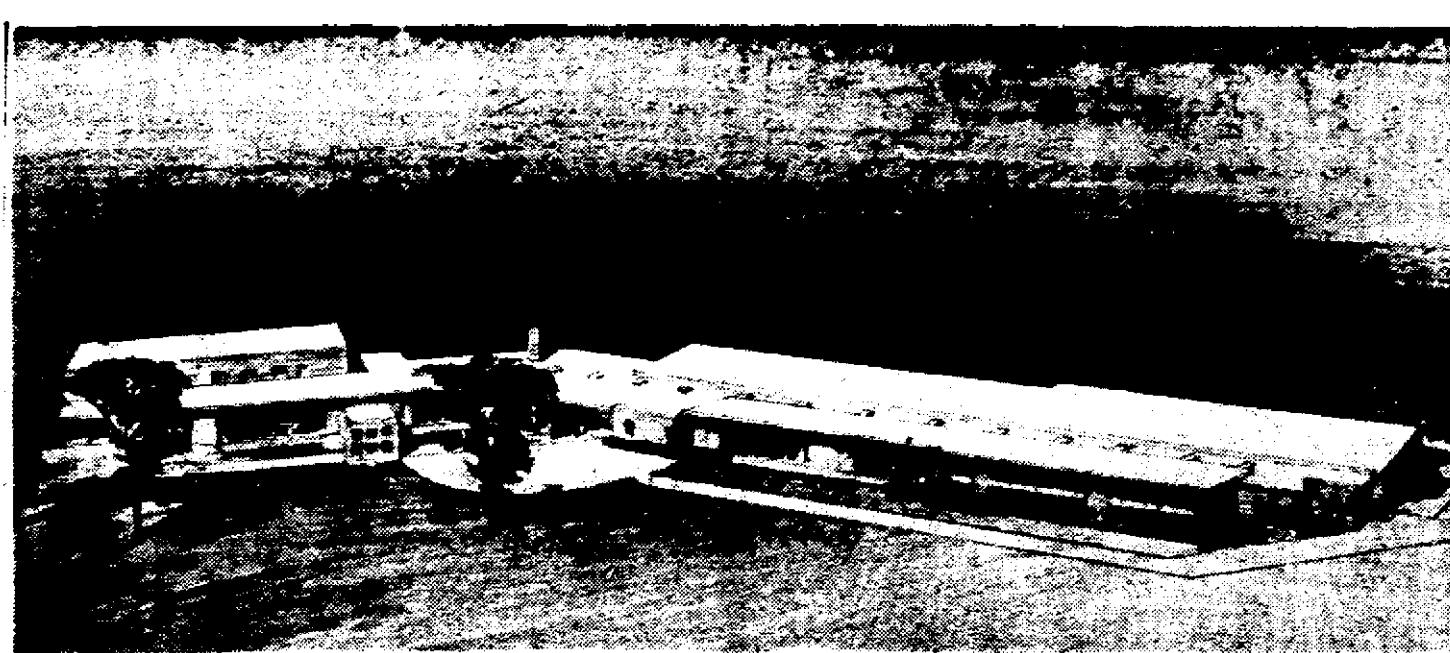

"I was 20 pounds overweight before I started to bowl. It was mainly because I did nothing but sit home and nibble and munch goodies," says a 19-year-old.

"My whole family loves to bowl," says a 16-year-old girl. "Mom, Dad and my two younger brothers and I have a lot of fun competing with each other."

"It's a good way to make friends with your fellow workers."

Advantages — Invitational championships and world series. This year several teen-agers competed in the main time, a girl bowler may look a little rough around the edges.

Are there advantages to be had for girl bowlers? Here are

When the Addition to Richmond school, drawn to the left of the present building, is completed it will look like this sketch. The 4-room and library addition is designed by Architect George Narovec and, although construction has not started, it is expected to be completed for the opening of the school year next September. Bids will be opened Wednesday afternoon.

Crown Poppy Royalty At Legion Juniors' Valentine Luncheon

Twenty fathers were entertained by a group of 50 daughters when American Legion Junior auxiliary held a father-daughter potluck luncheon Saturday afternoon at the Legion clubhouse.

Highpoint of the afternoon was crowning of poppy royalty, including Penny Berken, princess, and attendants, Becky Kriehn and Susan Metko. The girls wore robes of white corduroy trimmed with red poppies and received circlets of red poppies.

They will represent the local unit in competition at the spring district conference April 11 at Shiocton. The winning girl will be named district poppy princess.

Civil Defense Skit Diane Lynch, junior chairman, welcomed the fathers and Gerald Arens, presented the fathers' response. Berdine Helser, mistress of ceremonies, introduced the program.

A civil defense skit was presented by Kathy Hoffman, Betty Ann Simon and Berdine Helser. The script will be submitted to Mrs. Allen Gunderson, Shiocton, for judging, and if accepted, will be entered at the district conference.

Mary Ann Arndt served as moderator for an Americanism skit on Alaska, assisted by Jean Berken and her doll, Jerry, in a ventriloquist act. Original design hats based on an atomic theme were worn in a skit, emceed by Sandra Withuhn. Models were Sharron of the National Association on Springstroh. Claudia Metcalf of Accountants will hear Walter R. Bunge speak Helser, Jonna Metko, Berdine on "Budgeting" at an 8 p.m. meeting tonight at the Beau-Sally Landry.

Discuss Spring Projects Projects to be submitted at a directors' meeting at 5 p.m. The spring conference were discussed. The girls are working on various projects, including poppy displays, handicraft, Pan-American dolls, ers. Organize teams and meet once a week," says a stenographer.

"There is no other form of recreation where I live, so the boys and girls get together at the bowling lanes," says another youngster. "Our parents set the curfew so there is no criticism of our activities."

One girl volunteered that she had to give up bowling because she was becoming "a better bowler than my steady date." When he catches up, she'll go back to it, says this clever girl.

Winnebago Board Favors Midway Site

for extending sewer and water 650 feet outside the city limits to take care of the center, he said.

"We have a good number of students employed in Neenah and Menasha on a part-time

Airport Foe Says It Would be Good UW Extension Site

The Outagamie county airport this morning was offered as possible site for the University of Wisconsin extension center by Appleton Supv. Alois Fischer. Fischer made the suggestion to a few supervisors during the board's meeting and not to the board as a whole.

Fischer, long an opponent of the airport location, bordering his ward said the port has sewer and water service to its edges and contains more than enough acres—160.

Although no formal poll of the Outagamie board has been taken, the supervisors are expected to okay the Midway site, despite opposition from about a dozen supervisors.

basis while they are going to school and also in summer-time jobs," the mayor explained.

The mayor thought 10 acres would be adequate for the extension center, since it was not to be a campus school.

He gained support on this contention from Supv. William Kelsh, Oshkosh, who declared Oshkosh State college has only 15 acres for its five major buildings and that the university regents had just purchased a Milwaukee institution which has only 8.63 acres.

Long-Range Plans
Bubolz replied that the 20 acres would be for long-range planning. Additional acres would have to be purchased at premium prices if not enough land is secured originally, he said.

Bubolz said he thought any of the cities in the Fox valley would be glad to allow extension students to use their gyms and libraries or any other school facilities for social events.

Dr. William Hanley, director of the freshman - sophomore programs for the UW extension department, said he thought the 40,000 square foot building as proposed for the center would be adequate for 10 years or more and should handle about 500 students.

Several supervisors declared the board should support its committee in its recommendations, feeling that the Outagamie county board might not go along with the Menasha site.

Outagamie Split
Bubolz, in reply to a question, said Outagamie county had one group that wanted the site at the county farm badly and another that preferred a Kaukauna location. It would be cheaper to run sewer and water from Appleton to the Midway site than it would be to the county farm, he said.

Only one of Menasha's supervisors, R. M. Sensenbrenner, voted in favor of the Midway site. Those from Menasha voting against the site were Al Becker, Clayton Heiss, Henry Jankowski and Emil Pawer.

Neenah supervisors voting against the Midway site were Lawrence Driscoll and John Heigl. Both Oliver Jacobsen, town of Menasha and Laurel Heaney, town of Neenah, were in favor of the Midway location.

Other negative votes came from six Oshkosh supervisors and one from the town of Uica. Several Neenah supervisors were absent.

Funeral Set for Car Crash Victim
Funeral services for Russell A. Mills, 56, N. Main street, Seymour, who was killed in a 2-car crash north of Seymour Sunday morning, will be at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at St. Paul Methodist church, Seymour, with burial in Green Valley Memorial park, Advance. Friends may call at the Muehl Funeral home, Seymour, until 11 a.m. Wednesday and then at the church.

He was born June 30, 1902, in the town of Green Valley, Shawano county. He lived in the Advance area until 1944 when he moved into the De Pere-Seymour area. He was employed by the H. D. Hudson Manufacturing company, West De Pere.

He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Sandra and Virginia, and three sons, Larry, Chester and Ronald, all at home; two brothers, Leigh, route 3 Pulaski, and Bruce, route 1, Cecil; three sisters, Mrs. Harold Sohr, Bonduel, Mrs. Chester Schuetz, Sheboygan, and Mrs. Walter Krueger, route 1, Krakow; and his mother, Mrs. Jennie B. Mills, route 1, Cecil, to whose home he was traveling when he was killed.

Relate Traffic Jams to Park's Garbage Cans

Gatlinburg, Tenn.—The superintendent of the Great Smoky Mountains national park believes there is a relationship between garbage cans and traffic jams. He said garbage cans for picnickers beside highways attract bears, tourists stop to watch the bears, and they back up traffic for miles.

Today's Deaths

Mrs. Herman Husman

Mrs. Herman "Veets" Husman, 56, 546 Green street, Seymour, died at 3:30 p.m. Monday at her home after a long illness. She was born March 20, 1902, in Menominee, Wis.

She taught first grade in Seymour for seven years until she married in 1928. She was a charter member of the Seymour Woman's club and a town of Wolf River, died at 10:15 p.m. Monday at New London after a long illness.

She was born Jan. 18, 1888, in the town of Bloomfield, where she lived until 1921 before moving to the town of Wolf River.

Funeral services will be at Hope United Church of Christ, Wolf River, at 2 p.m. Thursday with burial in the Wolf River cemetery. Friends may call at the Harrigan Funeral home, Weyauwega, after 1:30 p.m. Wednesday until 10:30 a.m. Thursday and then at the church.

She is survived by her husband; one son, David, Black Creek; and one grandchild. Her sister, Mrs. Myrtle Horan, was killed Feb. 6 in a train-car accident in Chippewa Falls shortly after returning home from nursing Mrs. Husman.

Charles R. Bonnin

Charles R. Bonnin, 70, 501 S. Pearl street, New London, a retired tavern operator and carpenter, died at 5:45 a.m. today in New London after a long illness. He was born Jan. 4, 1889 in the town of Liberty and was a veteran of World war I.

Six Directors Appointed to Humane Society

Six new directors were elected and annual reports presented when the Outagamie County Humane society held its annual meeting Monday evening in the courthouse annex. Directors will name officers later.

Elected to 3-year terms were Mrs. Peter Sellin, Peter Melchior, Marvin Wasserbach, Mrs. Harvey Gygi and E. A. Welch. Miss Mollie Pfeffer was named to a 1-year term.

The shelter report, compiled from April 1 through Jan. 31, indicated 191 dogs, 56 cats and 7 other animals were sold or placed in homes during that period. 133 complaints were handled and 134 dogs and 17 cats were reported lost. Of the lost dogs, 25 were found.

Washington PTA Wants New Edison School Constructed

Washington school's Parent-Teacher organization Thursday voted unanimously in favor of construction of a new Edison school. Walter W. Centner, president, informed the city council Monday.

City Clerk Broehm said the letter will be read at Wednesday night's council meeting and probably will be forwarded to the school advisory committee for study.

PTA Plans Discussion On Getting New School

Franklin Jesse, a member of the Appleton school board, will discuss mechanics of getting a new school when the Edison Parent-Teacher association meets at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the school. A pot luck supper will be held at 6:30 p.m.

PTA members and other school district residents currently are campaigning for a new school building.

The Booth and Voss Funeral home, Manawa, after noon Wednesday until noon Thursday and then at the church. She is survived by her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Edward Jaeger, town of Union; one son, Walter, town of Union; one sister, Mrs. Richard Schoepke, Bear Creek; and 11 grandchildren.

2 Name Signs At Each Corner Turned Down

Reflector-Type Clear Enough, Committee Rules

A program for gradual placement of two street name signs at each corner is not needed, the street committee ruled Monday.

Ald. Mrs. Stillings at the last council meeting suggested the gradual program because "our people have a right to know where they are."

Committeemen said the new reflector type of street sign "will be so obvious to negate the need for two at each corner."

The committee agreed some time ago on a gradual replacement of the older signs with the green-and-white reflector type.

Other Actions

Other committee action: Kenneth Hooyman was denied extension of a sanitary sewer line from Lindbergh street north to serve one lot. He should wait until a main is installed that will serve the entire new street on which the lot will be situated, the committee said.

A decision on whether to ask the vocational school to conduct a special course in truck driving for street and sanitation department truck drivers was put off.

Director of Public Works Duszynski said a new clutch recently lasted less than 10 days and it is apparent the course might do some good.

Snow Problem

The committee decided to send a $123.39 bill for electrical work at Robert Shepherd's home, 926 E. College avenue, to Brennan and Rolland Construction company's insurer. The construction firm, working for the city, cut through an underground electrical circuit at Shepherd's home and City Atty. Jury ruled the city is liable for costs made to switch the service above ground. Duszynski asked committeemen to think about a means of preventing filling stations, markets, clubs and others with large driveway areas

Committee Wants $4,570 From Contingent Fund

A transfer of $7,570 from the contingent fund to meet four unbudgeted expenditures is asked of the city council by its finance committee.

First year payment on the south side park purchased Feb. 4 from Joseph H. Doerflinger amounts to $4,750. The city bought 6.34 acres for $1,500 an acre. The park is south of Hoover avenue at Lawe street.

Other committee actions: Doctor and hospital bills incurred by Hugo Strehlow, a fireman who injured his back in a 1942 intersection accident between a fire truck and a bus, total $1,500. The city had no insurance at that time.

Lift Station
A large lot the council purchased Feb. 4 at Badger avenue and Winnebago and Douglas street from the Samuel Shapiro estate cost $1,000. Another $320 is needed to make enough money to pay for the first year-payment on the northwest sewage lift station and park site which the council bought from Kenneth Hooyman in the northwest corner of the city.

The $7,570 will reduce the contingent fund to $48,531.21. It was $56,579.43 at the start of the year.

Other Actions
The mayor and city clerk are recommended to attend the League of Municipalities legislative conference at Madison Feb. 24.

The suggestion of Ald. Tews for forwarding of council committee reports and minutes to the city's county board of supervisors was turned down. A journal of reports and the minutes already are forwarded to the county clerk, it was said.

Assessor John Pierre was invited to attend the next committee meeting to outline his need for more help.

Ald. Mrs. Stillings, whose long distance telephone bill was questioned by a fellow committeeman at the previous meeting, refused to sign all less than two feet wide. He telephone bills which did not itemize the purpose of the call.

Sir Winston Churchill to Take Cruise on Mediterranean
Marrakech, Morocco — Sir Winston Churchill will sail Thursday on Greek Ship Magnate Aristotle Onassis' yacht for a 2-week cruise in the Atlantic and Mediterranean.

Churchill and Anassis have been frequent companions on the Riviera in recent years. The Greek flew to Marrakech with the British statesman Jan. 12—in an Onassis plane—when Churchill and his wife came here for a winter vacation in the sun.

4 Satellites Still Up
The mission today was the same as late Sept. 26 when the satellite burned up over central Africa after making one uncertain sweep around the globe.

The United States still has three satellites up in the company of Russia's massive Sputnik III.

Vanguard I, the lone triumph up to today in the navy-developed program, has made more than 3,000 swings through orbit after launching last March 17. Its miniature 3½-pound ball already has shown that the earth is shaped more like a pear than the bulging sphere it was believed to be.

Because of the added size, the latest satellite was not expected to match the impressive orbital heights achieved by Vanguard I, which may journey through space for 200 years. At present Vanguard I loops out as far as 2,453 miles and comes within 704 miles of earth.

Greek Leader May Oppose Plan for Cyprus

recognized leader of 400,000 Greek Cypriots on the island. The British plan also calls for:

A full reconciliation between Cypriot communities on Cyprus. The island has 100,000 Turkish Cypriots.

A recreation of Greek-Turkish friendship.

Giving to the Cypriots themselves the opportunity to develop their own institutions for self-government and independence.

Greek and Turkish representatives welcomed the British program at the conclusion of the meeting.

Private Conference Archbishop Makarios and Dr. Fazil Kutchuk, the Turkish Cypriot leader, will meet privately this afternoon to consider the plan in detail. Kutchuk was believed certain to accept it.

Greek Foreign Minister Evangelos Averoff and Turkish Foreign Minister Fatih Rustu Zorlu scheduled a meeting to discuss technical details arising out of the morning conference.

Karamanlis was en route by plane from Athens. Averoff had reportedly appealed to him to intercede with Makarios. Averoff, Lloyd and Zorlu agreed last night on the basic principles of the independence plan worked out in Zurich.

Menderes was also on his way from Ankara to London. Makarios apparently was balking at a promise that Britain, after granting freedom to a republic of Cyprus, would retain sovereignty over the military bases she has established during her 81-year rule of the island.

The archbishop also was believed objecting to the restriction that Cyprus must forever remain independent and could never unite with Greece. Makarios had led the Greek Cypriots' original demand for Enosis—union with Greece—which the Greek government finally abandoned in hopes of ending the nearly four years of bloodshed on the island.

Urges GOP to be Proud Of Conservative Label

Los Angeles — Vice President Nixon says Republicans should wear the conservative tag proudly.

"I don't think we could make a greater mistake than to say that because some people don't like being called conservative, the Republican party should stop being conservative," Nixon told 1,100 party workers yesterday.

"We should be proud of what we believe."

He spoke at a luncheon honoring retiring GOP county executive Secretary Orville J. Evans.

Evans urged those present to "do something every day to help our Dick Nixon get elected to the White House."

St. Mary Catholic Church began construction last year of a new sisters' convent at Seventh and State streets. A 2-story, T-shaped building, it will cost about $180,900 when completed sometime in August. It will provide quarters for 19 nuns and two guests.

Smaller Schools Most Costly Ones

Watson Says Youth Not Getting Quality of Education Assured Him

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — The poor high school tends to be the costly. The poorer schools are the smaller schools in the rural communities, mostly because they cannot afford the breadth of course offerings of the larger units in the cities. At the same time they operate less economically because of their tiny enrollments and farm audience recently that the rural youth is not getting the equality of educational quality that is nominally assured him. Watson quickly added that the small school is not necessarily inferior. Size alone a big city school is not sufficient. But the fact is that the smaller school in most situations cannot offer such a wide selection of subjects, taught by teachers as well trained, as can the city schools for the same per capita costs, he went on. Watson echoed the complaints made by other authorities, including Dr. James Conant who has been on a nationwide lecture tour devoted to the problems of the small high schools. Consolidations There is in such addresses an oblique appeal for high school consolidations and reorganization, although the state office of education has not yet directly suggested such action to the legislature at a cost of $569 per student, Watson clearly wants the

In Iron Lung Secretary With Polio Types With Tongue

Louisville, Ky. — George Lee (Jo) Sherrill, paralyzed by polio four years ago, lives in an iron lung at home. The 23-year-old former secretary can type accurately. The minor miracle is achieved by use of her tongue. The "tongue - typewriter" was put together by employees of three companies: General Electric, International Business Machines and Southern Bell Telephone. IBM donated an electric typewriter which requires a much lighter touch than a standard machine — plus a device which operates it by remote control. GE gave the green light to model maker Wesley S. Patton to devise a link between Miss Sherrill's tongue and the typewriter. Low Voltage Southern Bell set up Miss Sherrill's special apparatus so it would operate on low voltage direct current while the typewriter operates on standard house current. Patton's gadget is the heart of the system. It enables Miss Sherrill to wiggle the end of a pointer contained in a slot labelled with the desired letter, closing an electrical circuit to operate the key. She uses a miniature keyboard with 48 characters in a straight line. "This is unique because nothing is held in Miss Sherrill's mouth," Patton said. "The device is ready whenever she wants to use her tongue to type."

Sends Letters Despite her affliction Miss Sherrill has sent many letters of encouragement to other polio patients throughout the country. No longer does she have to dictate the letters. It took Patton four months to develop his cog in the system. "Time and again I came up against a wall," he said. "Then I prayed and somehow the next answer came. He said Miss Sherrill's amazing spirit overwhelmed those who helped her." Sherrill's first type-written letter was to Patton. "I wish I could find the words to express my appreciation."

$513,000 Paid for 41 Right-of-Way in '58

Stretch From 114 North to County Line
Cost $280,000; Some Purchased Earlier

Oshkosh—Purchase of land for the Highway 41 4-laning through Winnebago county during 1958 alone cost $513,000. Robert Graef, deputy highway commissioner, reported to the Winnebago county board this morning.

This figure, he said, does not include the cost of the lane purchased in 1957.

The cost of right of way purchased for the area from Highway 114 north to the Outagamie county line amounted to $280,683. The largest items in this section were the Log Cabin tavern, for which $39,250 was paid, and an award of damages to Carl DeLapp, for which $38,000 was paid.

Permit for Grade Addition

St. John Parish To Build Six Room Building

Menasha — Application for a building permit for the $134,638 addition to the St. John Grade school has been made to H. O. Haugh, building inspector. The building permit cost was listed at $90,000.

The 6-classroom addition will be built on Fifth street and work will include remodeling of front classrooms.

The addition will be 97 feet 4 inches by 94 feet 4 inches. Contractor for the work is Roland Hopfensperger, Appleton on the general construction.

Work will be completed by Sept. 1 in time for the fall school term. The parishoners voted to build the addition in order to continue kindergarten and first grade classes at the school.

The general contract for the addition amounts to $98,066. Uptown Electric company, Waupaca has the electrical contract for $10,472 and E. J. Rippl, Menasha, has the combined heating, ventilaung and plumbing contract for $26,080.

Lions Club to Hear Television Manager

D. C. Shepard, Jr. To Head Twin City Community Chest

Fulltime Director Suggested
In Report at Annual Meeting

Neenah — Donald C. Shepard, Jr., was elected president of the Community Chest at a vice president. Mrs. Charles Schuepper was reelected secretary and Mrs. E. J. Schultheis was again named treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors for 3-year terms were Alden Christianson, James Crust, James P. Buchanan, John Pinkerton, John Grimes, Gavin Young and a representative to be chosen by the Neenah-Menasha Labor council.

Mrs. Schultheis was named to fill the unexpired term of E. O. Alberts who has moved from the city. The term has two years to run.

Directors whose terms expired and who were not eligible for reelection were Swanson, Arthur Hedlund, Gordon Sawyer and Don Snyder.

Fulltime Director

The advisability of having a director on either a fulltime or parttime basis for the Community Chest was stressed. Swanson pointed out the bus-

Neenah Man Takes His Life

Robert B. Sommer, 47, Dies of Wounds; Funeral Thursday

Neenah — Robert B. Sommer, 47, 849 Reddin avenue, died of self-inflicted rifle wounds in the bedroom of his home Monday, according to Neenah police.

Death was placed at between 10:30 and 11 a.m. by Dr. G. A. Steele, Winnebago county coroner. He was found by his wife at 12:10 p.m. when she returned home from visiting their daughter. She had left the home at 7:30 a.m., she said.

She called a brother, S. A. Sommer, who notified police. Sommer was found on the bed. The rifle had fallen to the floor. There was an empty shell in the chamber and a loaded one in the clip. The projectile entered through the chest near the breastbone and passed through the body and mattress into the floor.

There were no notes or any indication in the house as to a reason for the death.

Sommer was born Jan. 8, 1912 at Thorp and has been a resident of Neenah since 1920. He graduated from Neenah high in 1930. He was connected with the Sommer agency in Neenah.

Private funeral services will be conducted at Martin Luther Evangelical Lutheran church Thursday afternoon with the Rev. Paul G. Hartwig in charge. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

Friends may call at the Westgor Funeral home from 2 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Survivors include the widow; his mother, Mrs. William Sommer, Neenah; a daughter, Mrs. Larry Gilbertson, Neenah; two brothers, Ray, Delavan, Ohio, and S. A. Sommer, Neenah; two sisters, Mrs. Milton Porath, Suring, and Mrs. Truitt Cox, Neenah, and two grandchildren.

Oshkosh Man Injured In 2-Car Accident

Oshkosh — William L. Brooks, 59, Oshkosh, was taken to Mercy hospital by county traffic police after his car collided with one driven by Rudolph Cruba, Sr., 43, route 2, Omro, on Highway 21 and 41 in the town of Algoma for 9 a.m. March 6 by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger Monday afternoon.

Brooks received a lacerated scalp. He was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Pick Theme For Menasha Student Revue

Annual Program Feb. 24 Includes Various Acts

Menasha — "Through the Years" is the theme of the fourth annual Bluejay Revue scheduled at the Menasha High school auditorium at 8 p.m. Feb. 24.

The Student Senate will sponsor the show and Dee Toschner has been named general chairman.

Laura Thorne and Tom Van Buskirk have been selected to handle publicity. Sally Becker will be in charge of tickets and Gary Ashenbrenner and Robert Lang will handle the stage and lighting.

Variety Program

Variety is the keyword for the show as singing, dancing, comedy and pantomime acts are scheduled.

Don Remmel is master of ceremonies for the program. The show is open to the public. Admission for adults is 50 cents and student price is 25 cents.

Oshkosh Youth Tells Police He Counterfeited

Oshkosh — A 15-year old Oshkosh youth told police Monday morning that he was the maker of the counterfeit coins which had been turning up here the last week.

Police are consulting with government law enforcement officers to decide what disposition to make.

Using a special plaster to make the molds from authentic coins, the youngster made nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars. He said his mother found out about the coins and he broke the molds.

The boy said he made about $45 in coins but melted down only about $15 worth. About $15 had been passed in Oshkosh stores by the youth and his friends, some of whom knew about them and others who didn't. About $15 still remains in circulation.

Pleads Innocent of Statutory Rape

Oshkosh — Phillip Magnuson, 23, Winnebago, pleaded innocent to a charge of statutory rape and trial was set for 9 a.m. March 6 by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger Monday afternoon. Magnuson was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

Paine Lumber To be Subsidiary Of General Plywood

Oshkosh — The General Plywood corporation of Louisville, Ky., has acquired the 106 year old Paine Lumber company, Ltd., one of this city's oldest industries.

A joint announcement of the transaction which involves an exchange of an undisclosed amount of common stock, was made by Henry M. Reed, Jr., president of General Plywood and Donald E. Castle, president of Paine. No further financial details were disclosed.

Paine will be operated as a wholly owned subsidiary of General. Employee personnel will remain the same, with announcement of changes in Paine's management personnel expected soon.

Increase Employment

Paine officials said the acquisition of the Paine Lumber company, "will make General Plywood corporation, itself one of the nation's largest door and wood paneling manufacturers, an undisputed leader in the door field."

Founded in 1853, the Paine Lumber company is a major manufacturer of flush doors. The Oshkosh firm holds all gold medals ever awarded the door industry by a national or international exposition in the United States. The highest recognition was extended to the company by the Smithsonian Institution which singled out Paine to set up a permanent door exhibition.

Twin City Deaths

Mrs. Ira Hough

Neenah — Mrs. Ira Hough, 69, of 670 Frederick avenue, Oshkosh, died at Oshkosh Monday night after a short illness. She was born Feb. 3, 1890 in Neenah. She lived in Larsen from 1927 to 1942 and in Oshkosh the last nine years.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Westgor Funeral home with the Rev. Perry Britton, pastor of Allenville Community Baptist church, in charge. Burial will be in the Allenville cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 2 p.m. Thursday.

Survivors include the widow; one daughter, Mrs. Mildred Schaefer, West Bend; one stepdaughter, Mrs. Lois James, Green Bay; one son, George Hansen, Oshkosh; two stepsons, Joe Hough, Oshkosh and Emerson Hough, in Oregon; two brothers, Walter Roemer, Neenah, and Charles Roemer, Midland, Tex., one sister, Mrs. Clara Adams, Fond du Lac, and 17 grandchildren.

Brotherhood Speaker At Kiwanis Meeting

Neenah — Maurice H. Terry, executive secretary of the Council and Christians and Jews of Wisconsin, will be the guest speaker at the noon meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Valley Inn.

Terry will speak on national Brotherhood week. Special guest will be David Bliss, Appleton, chairman of the Neenah, Menasha, Appleton, Kumbria and Kaukauna Brotherhood observances.

Harold B. Mennes will be chairman of the program.

Friends may call at the Kessler Funeral home after 2 p.m. Wednesday and at the church after 12:30 p.m. Thursday.

Survivors include the widow; one stepdaughter, Mrs. Oscar Moderson, Neenah; three stepsons, Arnold Boness, Waupaca, Carl Boness, Menasha, Oscar Boness, Milwaukee; two sisters, Mrs. Henrietta Boness and Mrs. Margaret Hoehne, both of Neenah, and 17 grandchildren.

Brotherhood Week is Being Observed in schools and by clubs this week as part of the national observance. Attention to the brotherhood idea is being prepared in a poster display by Mary Pedersen, left, and Gail Malchow at the Neenah high school lobby.

Board Votes to Sell Bonds for Improvements

Let Contracts For Extension Of Sewers, Water

Winnebago — Bonds totaling $75,000 to finance water and sewer improvements in the village were voted by the village board at a special meeting Monday night. The mortgage bonds will be repaid through revenues from the department.

Contracts for extension of sewer and water service to the northwest side (Scott's addition) of the village were let. The bids were opened in January and tabulated by the Jerry Donohue Engineering company of Sheboygan.

Contracts for water and sewer mains were issued to Tenor Brothers Construction company of Green Bay. Their low bid was $49,619.

General construction of the sewer ejector station was awarded to the Bahr Construction company of Manitowish, for $10,000. The Mayr Construction company of Sheboygan submitted the low bid of $3,300 for electrical work on the ejector station and for furnishing and installing the generator.

Repair work also will be plant.

Father Frees Candy Stuck in Throat of 20-Month-Old Girl

Menasha — By using force to dislodge a piece of round hard candy which had been stuck in her throat, Ronald Meunier, 732 Mayer street, was able to save the life of his 20-month old daughter, Dawn Marie, Monday afternoon.

He put his fingers into the girl's mouth and throat and was able to get the piece of candy and force it out. The girl had stopped breathing, according to the mother, and the candy would not move either way.

The daughter was taken at 5:08 p.m. in the Neenah ambulance to Theda Clark hospital where she was kept overnight for observation.

Family Smells Smoke But Nothing Is Found

Menasha — Firemen were called to the M. G. Auer home 126 Broad street, at 4:35 p.m. Monday when the family reported a smell of smoke throughout the home.

Stereo Is Here To Stay, Tip-Top Representative Says

Menasha — Do not let the word Stereo frighten you. It is not a "here today — gone tomorrow" sort of thing, according to Tip Top Radio and TV, 216 Main street. It is a masterpiece of precision engineering and millions of dollars of research. The present day stereo system utilizes one needle, following through one groove in the record, miraculously sending two different sounds to your speaker systems. How? A record groove is cut at a 45 degree angle, like a V. One particular group of sounds is recorded on one side of the V, and different sounds on the opposite side.

Any present Hi-Fi system of fairly recent vintage can be converted to stereo, and the beautiful part of it is, says Tip Top, that the stereo system can play all old records as well as new stereo discs.

"Listen to stereo, if you haven't already, and we are sure you will agree, it surpasses anything you have ever heard before, so question not for Stereo is here to stay," concludes a representative for the firm.

Area People May "Live Better Electrically With High-Fidelity" from Tip-Top Radio and TV, 216 Main street, Menasha. Hi-Fi components, ready built at mail order prices, are available at this modern shop. Customers may choose their favorite amplifier and compare with others (shown above) while listening. Tip-Top maintains a complete service department with trained Hi-Fi specialists ready to serve the customer. Tip-Top also repairs all makes of Hi-Fi, phonographs, tape recorders and radio and television sets. Custom installations are a specialty. Using the best in recording equipment, Tip-Top will cut records of a church choir or wedding. The firm does recordings for Lawrence College. Phone number to call is PA 2-3344. The shop is open Monday nights for Hi-Fi fans.

Going On A Vacation To The Sunny South? If you are — and you're a dog owner — the best place to leave your pet is Becker's Dog Motel, (also known as Becker's Lakeland Kennels), located on Highway 41, just south of the Winneconne avenue intersection, Neenah. The modern kennels, popular with dog owners throughout the Fox Cities, is owned and operated by twin brothers, Paul and John Becker. The combined experience of the two men in handling dogs is more than 25 years. The kennels, patterned after the research kennels of Gaines Laboratories, are clean and quiet and accommodate 24 dogs. One of the unique features at the kennels and one that is appreciated by dog owners, is a stationary wall, 4 feet high, that separates each kennel. The wall provides cleaner individual kennels and removes the possibility of dogs fighting, Paul said. The kennels, built in 1954, have radiant heat and inside and outside runways. Dogs may be boarded by the day, week or month. Paul will call for and deliver a dog for a small additional fee. He believes every dog "deserves a good home" and the kennels carefully handles any dog, from a Chihuahua to a St. Bernard. Paul breeds and trains Siberian Husky sled dogs for display and has a 7-dog team that appears in parades and wintertime celebrations. Private rides are also available. Phone number at the kennels is PA 2-5179. Customers are assured of the best in care when they leave their dogs at Becker's.

Jaycettes to Stage Roaring 20's Ball, Two Couples Events

Neenah — Arrangements for two social events, a "Roaring Twenties Charity Ball" and treasure hunt were announced at the Jaycettes' Monday evening meeting.

The Roaring Twenties ball, proceeds of which will go to the cerebral palsy fund, will be held April 24 at Menasha Elks club. An orchestra will play for dancing from 9 to 1 a.m. The costume dance, open to the public, will include a Charleston contest.

The organization will stage the first of a two-part treasure hunt, get-acquainted couples night events, at 8 p.m. Saturday. Couples have been divided into two teams, one group to entertain this month and the second group to entertain March 21.

Entertaining Saturday evening will be Mr. and Mrs. John Prosser, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ralph, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pitts, Mr. and Mrs. William Engel, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanley, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schubert and Mr. and Mrs. Del Branz. The entire visiting team will complete the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Carpenter. Mrs. Clifford Lee is chairman of the event.

Community Council
Mrs. James Payne was appointed Community Council representative and named to the nominating committee were Mrs. Ron McMurray, Mrs. Branz and Mrs. Gordon Johnson. Officers will be elected at the April meeting.

Mrs. Thomas Catlin, guest speaker on mental health, outlined the basic goals of the mental health association as helping discharged patients, gifts for patients on birthdays and at Christmas, educating the public, recruiting volunteers, encouraging and financing research in the training of psychiatric personnel and helping legislators in the search of facts.

She described facilities in the local mental health office and volunteer work at Winnebago State hospital. Mrs. Catlin pointed out there is no hospital for the mentally ill child in the state.

Mrs. Vivian Landig will speak on interior decorating at the March 16 meeting, when Jaycettes will bring jewelry, ties and clothing for game prizes for mental health patients.

Over 240 Golden Age Club members from Green Bay, Sheboygan, Winneconne, Oshkosh and surrounding communities attended the ninth annual birthday banquet of the Neenah club Monday evening at Menasha Elks club. Decorations for the event, which included barbershop singing, a ventriloquist act, a quartet, games and old-time dancing, were made by Mrs. Violet La Rue, shown at the right in the upper picture, with Mrs. Elmer Reinke lighting the candle in the centerpiece arrangement. In the lower picture from left to right are Mrs. Ruby Kiefer, Menasha; Max Hardtke, Sheboygan; Mrs. George Ordng, Green Bay; and Miss Mary Koller, Sheboygan.

Menasha OES Has Inspection

Menasha — Mrs. Margaret Baker, Fond du Lac, grand conductress of the grand chapter of Wisconsin, made her official visit to Menasha chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Monday evening at the Menasha Masonic hall. Also attending the annual inspection was Mrs. Jean Manzer, Oshkosh, grand representative of Alabama in Wisconsin.

Members of Oshkosh, Neenah, New Glarus, Omro, Kaukauna, Winneconne, Marinette and DePere chapters attended.

Pouring at the tea table were Mrs. George Sheppard and Mrs. James Fitzgibbon. Members of the social committee included Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, Mrs. Vernon Halverson, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Burster, George Sheppard and Mr. and Mrs. Del Pecor.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinson are committee chairman for the Feb. 24 meeting.

Members of the Merry-makers Dance club were "up in the air" recently when the club staged a "Satellite Swing" party at the S. A. Cook armory. Space men and women dancing are Mr. and Mrs. John Pingel, co-chairmen, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hanson, who served on the dance committee.

Cucumber Peel Gives Relief To Tired Eyes

'Tis said that two pieces of cucumber peel can give your eyes a great lift, especially if they are tired from overwork or lack of sleep.

Models peel off two slices of the cucumber skin large enough to cover the eyes fully. They lie down with the peel on their eyes for five minutes, and claim that the peel can change a dim view into a clear-eyed one.

Adjustable Dummy, Boon For Home Seamstresses

The dressmaker's dummy has learned new tricks.

Instead of the steel frame and unyielding contours of the dummy in Grandmother's at-tic, the new dress forms are made of a variety of new ma-terials — light-weight, collaps-ible, adjustable and suited to the needs of today's home sewing fans.

The adjustable dummy is the biggest boon, since it can be changed to conform to changes in the human figure. When Mrs. Jones gains weight or goes on a diet, her dress form expands or contracts ac-cordingly.

One of the newest of these is a practical affair made of flexible, heavy paper, designed by Ann Baldwin to simpli-fy fitting problems. It comes packed in a slender case and, when assembled, is life size. It comes in various sizes, like dresses and the basic shape is put together with little metal clips. Over this goes a sleeveless muslin cover which is stitched to measure on the sewing machine. The seam-stress tries this on for per-fect fit, then pads or adjusts the paper base so the cover fits perfectly over it. The muslin cover is then basted to the base. In its simplest ver-sion, the form may be set on a table. The deluxe version comes with a stand. In either case it is light and easy to store. Clear diagrams show how to put the form together.

Jersey Panels
Among other dress forms on the market is one made of plastic coated chicken wire, which is tried on and molded to the figure, then mounted on a stand. Another kind is made of panels covered in jersey, which may be adjust-ed to the measurements of the figure.

Various pattern compar-also have attempted to solve the problem of the dress form.

Several have produced a bas-ic pattern: once this garment is made, all subsequent gar-ments may be measured against it. One company has produced a pattern made of a non-woven fabric, which may be stitched together and tried on. Guide lines on the fabric pattern aid in adjust-ing similar patterns; or the knitting, tailoring, oil and wa-garment itself may be taken apart and used as a pattern for a basic dress.

Local sewing center experts suggest preliminary fitting of the paper pattern to the dress form, so that adjustments may be made right on the pattern piece, before the fab-ric is cut.

If the form has a firm sur-face, alterations may be chalked on the pattern, and these new markings transfer-red to the fabric. Subsequent fittings are simplified by the use of a form. Such difficul-ties as shoulder seams may be pressed with a steam iron right on the form.

The modern seamstress pre-fers a dress form which may be dismantled for easy stor-age. And she has found that it's easier and quicker to achieve a perfect fit if she works with one of these new versions of the dressmaker's dummy.

Announce Date For Annual MVS Display

Menasha — The annual dis-play of work done in home-making classes at Menasha Vocational school will be held at 2 p.m. March 8. Miss Leo-na Bovee, homemaking co-ordinator, announced today.

Displays of millinery, cloth-ing, cooking, ceramics, lamp-shades, draperies, upholstery, the knitting, tailoring, oil and wa-ter colors and fur restyling will be among those shown. Class members will serve as hostesses.

Adult vocational school clas-ses will end March 12.

Patricia Scott, Thomas Holland Are Engaged

Winneconne — Mr. and Mrs. Merle W. Scott have an-nounced the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Thomas Holland, whose par-ents are Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Holland, 1639 Burdick street, Oshkosh.

The bride-elect is a gradu-ate of Winneconne High school and works for the Brown In-surance agency of Neenah. Her fiancé is an Oshkosh High school graduate and is em-ployed by the Kimberly-Clark corporation.

Good Citizens Tea

Neenah — Neenah chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold its an-nual Good Citizens tea and present good citizens awards to four high school girls at 2 p.m. Friday at the YWCA.

Mrs. Arthur Rieger, histori-an and chairman of the good citizenship committee, will present the awards to DAR winners from Neenah, Menasha, New London and Weyau-wega High schools.

Helen Tolverson and Elmer Evans will participate in the program.

Chairman of the tea com-mittee is Mrs. H. A. Heller. She will be assisted by Mrs. A. P. Graham, Mrs. E. C. Joyce, Mrs. Clarence Smith and Mrs. E. A. Wapster. The chapter has scheduled teas for March 6 and April 3 and will hold a luncheon June 5.

Laus Scores Deciding Goal With One Second Remaining

Neenah — A dramatic field goal by Paul Laus with a second left to play gave the Menasha freshmen a 40-39 win over Neenah here Monday afternoon. The victory was the Jays' seventh in nine league games while Neenah now has a 6-3 record. The triumph kept the Menashans in first place.

The last minute or so was filled with as much drama as many varsity contests. Laus broke a 36-all tie with a hook shot with a minute left.

With just three seconds remaining, Neenah's Winn Zimmerman put in a rebound shot to tie the score, he was fouled and made the point which gave the hosts a 39-38 lead.

Call Time Out

The Jays took the ball inbounds and called time out. A second or a little more remained on the clock. Bob Opsahl took the throw-in, passed to Laus, stationed about 20 feet out and his shot from the side swished through the hoop as the horn sounded.

Neenah had a 14-6 lead at the close of the first quarter and owned 16-6 and 18-3 margins in the second period before Menasha rallied to take a 24-23 halftime lead. Neenah led 31-30 at the close of three frames.

Laus had 24 points, including 12 in the second period, to take Menasha and game plays at Winneconne and St. John Zimmerman had 17 and Newman in non-leaguers.

Menasha — A Fox Valley Catholic conference quintet played one league game and have two non-conference tests scheduled tonight.

The surprising Jays have won over New London and Shawano in their last two games, marking the first time this season they've been able to put a chain together. Their season's record is now 5-10.

After four games in which the margin of defeat varied from one to five points plus two more setbacks in overtime, it seemed almost assured that the Menashans were going to surprise someone some night and they picked on second place Shawano last weekend. And they won at Shawano (50-48) where not too many Menasha teams have come back with victories in the last decade.

Menasha is currently tied for sixth and seventh with Clintonville, both with 3-8 in league play. A win would give it sixth alone and it could then solidify its position against the Trunkers Friday night. Kaukauna is fifth with 5-6.

In the first meeting, Kaukauna emerged with a 41-38 triumph on Bill Borchardt's goal with 19 seconds left. The fielder gave the visitors a 39-38 lead and they added two free throws before time ran out. The Jays went scoreless for the first 7:22 and were held without a field goal in the first quarter.

Leaders Score Two Dartball Loop Wins

Menasha — First place Equality won two games in the league Monday night. Sally Zielinski topped Equality and close of three frames but were outscored 10-5 in the final period. Al Blohm had 11 points for Menasha and Dennis Priede hit 10 for the Ghosts. Menasha now has an overall 8-7 record and 6-5 in league play.

Unpredictable Jays Encounter Kaukauna

Menashans Seek To Add 3rd Link To Victory Chain

Menasha — Menasha's unpredictable Bluejays gun for their third straight victory in a Mid-Eastern conference game tonight at Kaukauna.

The contest was moved up from the weekend's back-to-back schedule because the Ghosts also have a Friday night home game. The other six conference clubs will play their second games of the weekend Saturday night.

The surprising Jays have won over New London and Shawano in their last two games, marking the first time this season they've been able to put a chain together. Their season's record is now 5-10.

Keeps 28-Point Margin in M-E Scoring Race

Both Don Hearden, Weyenberg Hit 12 In Weekend Tilts

Neenah — The margin between Kimberly's Don Hearden and LeRoy Weyenberg of Kaukauna is still 28 points in the Mid-Eastern conference individual scoring race.

Both boys hit 12 points in last Friday's league games. Hearden now has 208 to 180 for the Kaukauna junior.

Kimberly cagers also hold down third and fourth place. Darrell Jansen is now third with 176 points and Jack Lamers, fourth with 174. Their positions were reversed last week.

Shawano's Phil Timm broke out of his scoring slump with 20 in the upset loss to Menasha but is forced to share the fifth spot with Dale Kozlowski of Two Rivers, who chalked up 32 against Neenah. Both have 160.

Leon Westphal of Clintonville hit 11 in his game and dropped to seventh with 150. There were no personnel changes among the top 10. Players who aren't far away from the select group include Jon Halverson, Neenah, 117; Tom Stepanski, Menasha, 115; Dave Rustau, Menasha, 114; and Ren Ketchenage, Shawano, and Dave Minten, Kimberly, 110.

The unofficial scoring:

'Make Up Our Minds on Port,' Lecker Urges

Says County Should Buy More Land or Sell Present Airport

"We've got to make up our minds about our county airport," Grand Chute Supv. Arthur Lecker told the Outagamie county board this morning.

"We have to decide if we're going to leave it as it is or build bigger. We may have to go east, buy property and close French road. Otherwise, we should sell out and buy enough land," Lecker declared.

Lecker remarked that he had "thought a lot about that airport in the last few weeks — ever since the stories in the paper. If the county wanted to build an airport there (its present location), then it should have bought the land. People shouldn't have to pay high taxes and not build their houses just so airplanes can fly over."

City Ordinance?
Appleton Supv. Alois Fischer caused the discussion when he wanted to know if there was any city ordinance about heights of buildings in the E. Glendale-E. Frances-Ballard road areas. No one knew.

(There is no city ordinance restricting building heights to conform with an air clearance area near the county airport.)
Center Supv. Harold Schmeichel wanted to know if the property was in the city or the county when the houses were built.

(Corp. Counsel Raymond Dohr has asked City Building Inspector Walter Bogan to find out.)

'Isn't Constitutional'
Freedom Supv. Joseph Weyers told the board that if "the restrictions in our ordinance didn't go right into the city when that area was annexed, the law isn't constitutional."

No formal action by the board was taken on any of the questions.

The county received a request from the state aeronautical commission for $4,000 to pay for initial engineering services by Foth and Porath, Green Bay. The board is to act on the request this afternoon.

The engineering firm so far has submitted bills totaling $2,460 for the clear zone survey which indicated 32 violations, including two houses, several silos and some television antennas and power poles on both ends of the existing runway.

No action has been taken by the county so far to remove the obstacles to a clear zone.

Committee Plans Meeting on Clara Street Problem

The Clara street problem will be discussed by nearby residents and the city council's street and sanitation committee at 7:30 p.m. Monday, March 2, at city hall.

Residents have petitioned to open the street east from their area to John street and the street committee has talked off and on of a pedestrian walkway.

The problem, residents have said, is that children have to walk far out of their way to get to John street and Richmond school.

Mayor, Police Chief Invited to Session

Mayor Mitchell and Chief of Police Hendricks have been invited to discuss the city's parking problems with the Appleton Downtown Retail association at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday, March 4, at the Conway hotel. Giles Flanagan, association secretary, announced today.

Advances Made in Control of Lamprey, Neenah Club Told

Neenah — Quite a few advances have been made in the control of the parasitic sea lamprey, Joseph Durkin of the federal fish and wild life commission office at Oconto told the Neenah club Monday noon.

By means of film, it was shown how the lamprey attack and destroy many of the choice species of fish in the Great Lakes, forcing many commercial fishermen out of business and others to abandon their equipment and buildings.

It was shown that lamprey feed on the blood and body fluids of its victims. Trout die eight hours after attack while other harder fish such as bullheads survive several attacks.

Electrical Controls
It was pointed out that lampreys enter streams, build their nests, spawn and then die. Lamprey is more related to the shark than the fish. Asides are most easily controlled when entering the streams and they have no commercial value when the young are on their value.

Five Students To Compete in Oratory Meet

Five high school students from the Fox Cities area will participate in the American Legion's Ninth district oratorical contest at 8 p. m. Thursday in the Legion clubhouse.

Contestants are John Baumgartner, Appleton High school; Dennis Dressang, Kimberly High school; Carol Vanden Heuvel, St. John High school; Little Chute; Dwight Bastian, Kaukauna High school; and Donna Propson, Wrightstown High school.

Judges are Dr. Victor Stracke, Will Olson and Wayne Nunenkamp, all of the Appleton Toastmasters club. The winner will compete in the state contest to be held at 2 p. m. March 8 in the American Legion clubhouse, Oshkosh.

tions in the 1958 drive totaled $12,764 but because of a 50 per cent agreement with Appleton, the net figure came to only $119,842. The drive goal was $121,800.

Missed Goal
This was the first year that the Community Chest had failed to reach or go over its goal, although it had taken more money in than before.

The 1956 collections were $112,161 and the 1957 receipts $119,120.

Of the amount collected 27 per cent came from advance gifts, 1 of 1 per cent from the bank booths, 32 per cent from corporate gifts, 37 per cent from industrial employees and 3 per cent from business and professional gifts.

A concerted effort was made to increase the number of 20 minute per month contributors and some measure of success was realized in the industrial group in that phase Sawtell mentioned.

Pledges to be paid during 1959 were emphasized and cash contributions were played down. Here again those in the industrial group, where personal solicitation is possible, turned out to be the best prospects, he continued.

The drive chairman mentioned that mail solicitation of the advance gift group is not entirely satisfactory and suggested some consideration be given to reducing the number of this group so that a personal solicitation program can be made workable.

The drives seem to have reached a plateau of about $120,000 to $122,000. Something new in future drives might be necessary to raise more money since future budgets will continue to increase as the size of the communities increase and the work load of the member agencies keeps pace with the growth, he declared.

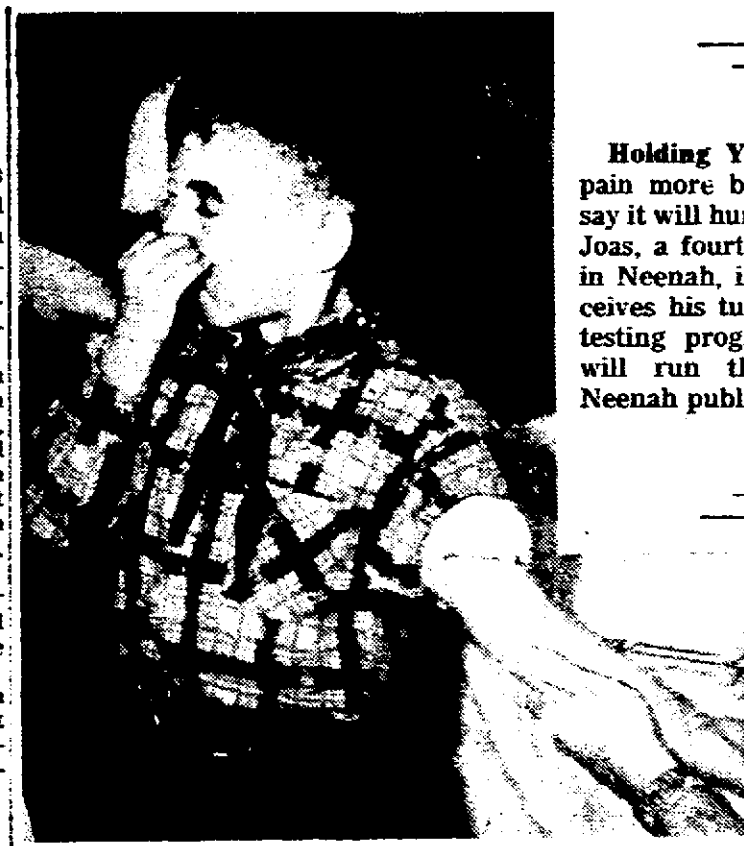

Camp Reservations Being Accepted By Valley Council

The Valley Boy Scout council is accepting reservations for summer attendance at Gardner Dam camps, according to D. W. Bergstrom, chairman of the council camping committee.

Gardner Dam is situated on a 1,800 acre plot in Langlade county, north of the Menominee Indian reservation.

The camp received an "excellent" rating last year by a representative of the National Council of Boy Scouts. William Morgan, Morgan said this was the first such rating he had granted in five years of inspecting camps.

Reservations are being accepted early because of anticipated heavy demand. Brochures and application forms have been mailed to all boy scouts in the Valley council.

Holding Your Nose Might make the pain more bearable but the physicians say it will hurt for only a moment. The testing program began last week and will run through March 4 in the Neenah public and parochial schools.

Request May Bring New Type of Zone

Planning Commission, Aldermen Express Need for Setting Aside Area for Clinics

A request to rezone the northeast corner of Meade street and Woodland avenue to permit construction of a clinic for an eye doctor may bring a change in the city's zoning laws.

The planning commission and aldermen in formal and informal discussions Monday talked of adding a building zone exclusively for certain professional clinics and offices.

It all started at the meeting of the planning commission. Dr. Edward J. Zeiss, the doctor, said he will need rezoning of four lots at the Meade-Woodland corner from residential to commercial and light manufacturing district before he can build his clinic.

One Opponent
Ald. Roy Pointer said, as far as he knows, there is only one opponent to the plan and if only the corner two lots were rezoned that opposition might vanish.

But, said Pointer, some effort ought to be made to make sure only the clinic will go on the property. Commercial and light manufacturing district will permit any type of business or small manufacturing building.

Any number of things can go wrong after rezoning is complete and open the way for any kind of building, he said.

Commissioners then talked of a new class of zone. They denied the request for the four lots, but approved rezoning of the two corner lots.

Add Stipulation
They added a stipulation, at suggestion of Mayor Mitchell, that Dr. Zeiss be required to restrict his deed to construction of the clinic only.

City Atty. Jury later told some of the aldermen that the deed restriction actually wouldn't building possibilities down, either. A release from the grantor at any time could take the restriction from the deed, he said.

It was agreed that the commission's action would be referred back to committee for study when it is presented Wednesday night at the council meeting.

Dr. Zeiss wants to erect a 40 by 48-foot building, with parking facilities, to get out of the downtown area. Older patients have a hardship in getting in and out of buildings on busy streets, he said.

Tried Before
A recent effort to have the same corner rezoned from residential to multiple family district was turned down after a host of petitioners opposed. The petitioners said they feared de-valuing of residential land values if Meade street becomes a commercial area.

Commissioners Monday said Meade street undoubtedly will

Council Asked to Rule Houses From Industrial Zones

Exclusion of residential building in heavy industrial zones is sought by the city planning commission.

Ald. Mrs. Stillings suggested the move some time ago and Mayor Mitchell Monday recommended it to the planning commission.

The idea, the mayor said, is to protect the city's few heavy industrially-zoned acres from encroachment by residential building.

Under present city zoning laws, houses can be built in any district, but other types of buildings are restricted by class.

The council votes on the recommendation Wednesday. Director of Public Works Duszynski was given permission to have a map drawn of the official city street map. It will include the alley layout for both sides of Wisconsin avenue.

Miller Electric Labor Case Under Appeal

Federal Judges Study Firm's Attempt to Set Aside Unfair Labor Ruling by NLRB

Chicago — The circuit court of appeals took under advisement Monday an Appleton firm's appeal of a national labor relations board ruling that it engaged in an unfair labor practice.

A 3-judge panel of John S. Hastings, W. Lynn Parkinson and Win G. Knoch heard arguments from Atty. Gordon Gill, Appleton, representing the Miller Electric Manufacturing company, and Atty. Richard H. Frank, representing the NLRB.

Frank argued that Miller Electric fired Vincent H. Buchberger in 1956 because of his union organizing activities and for questioning Miller Electric's form of incentive pay.

No Knowledge
Miller's attorney declared officers of the firm had no knowledge of an attempt to organize the firm by the Associated Unions of America until after Buchberger was dismissed.

The NLRB lawyer told the court there was sufficient evidence of firing for union activity to enforce the NLRB order that Buchberger be rehired and reimbursed for loss of pay.

No date for announcing a decision was set.

April Finding
(Miller Electric last April was found guilty of unfair labor practices by the NLRB as it upheld an examiner's report. The examiner's hearings took place in March, 1957, and were notable for their bitterness and claims of perjury stemming from them.)

(After the board's ruling, Nielsen C. Miller, firm president, indicated his company had no intention of rehiring Buchberger and said the case would be fought in the courts.)

Wood Products Manufacturers Plan Conclave

Sessions Open Today; Elections Set Wednesday

Green Bay—A board of directors meeting starting late this morning will precede the annual convention Wednesday of the Northern Hemlock and Hardwood Manufacturers association at the Hotel Northland.

Wednesday's schedule will open with a movie on logging machinery followed by an address by Association President Gordon R. Connor, Wausau. A business panel on 1958 trends and 1959 expectations and a feature panel on lumber grading will be held later in the morning.

The morning session also will include a report by the nominating committee on its meeting Tuesday afternoon and the subsequent election of association officers.

O'Konski to Talk
A 1:15 p.m. luncheon in the hotel's Crystal ballroom will feature a talk by Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski of the Tenth district.

The association is composed of manufacturers of lumber, hardwood flooring, veneer, plywood, railroad ties, and associated products.

A. O. Knoke, of the Knoke Lumber company, Appleton, is treasurer of the association.

president, says in a letter to Mayor Mitchell that the company needs the land for storage.

Fox River has a storage site four blocks away which requires traveling busy Wisconsin avenue throughout the day. The company will have to move to a 24-acre site outside the city if purchase of the city-owned tract fails, Saiberlich says.

Shiocton's Don Theobald (35) has a battle on his hands to keep possession of the ball during Monday night's cage action in the Fox Valley Lutheran High gym. The Foxes' Harry Bruss (24) is behind Theobald, and Steve Boese (10) is in front. (Boese reached the 1,000 point mark for career scoring over the weekend). Other players shown are Shiocton's Harold Duprey (41) and FVL's Bob Luebke (14). The Chiefs won, 47-44.

Barry Schwandt Breaks Tie in Final Minute

The Fox Valley Lutheran High school basketball team attempts to sever a 3-game losing streak tonight when it visits Freedom. The Foxes' latest setback was a 47-44 loss to Shiocton in an exciting game here Monday night.

The Foxes trailed by as much as 12 points (36-24) early in the third quarter but then pulled even, 42-42, in the final period. Rog Bartmann potted a corner shot for a 44-42 lead that then Steve Boese missed on a 1-and-1 free throw situation with about 1:15 to go.

Shiocton's John Johnson whipped in a jump shot from the corner with about 40 seconds left to tie it, and Barry Schwandt hit a drive-in for a 46-44 lead. Schwandt's free throw added insurance. Bartmann scored 22 points for game honors.

The Foxes hit one more fielder than Shiocton's 17. But, the Chiefs had a 13-8 free throw edge.

The Shiocton "B" team beat the Fox Lutheran jayvees, 32-30. The losers' Ron Olm earned game honors with nine points.

Champaign, Ill. — P — Illinois romped to a 42-22 halftime bulge over Wisconsin Monday night and then rolled on to a 93-54 Big Ten conference basketball victory.

The defenseless Badgers — with a field goal average of .139 in the first half — trailed by as much as 22 points before halftime. Wisconsin, after fumbling the ball away repeatedly, finished with a .218 average.

5th Illini Win
It was Wisconsin's thirteenth straight loss on the road and left the Badgers at the bottom of the Big Ten standings. Illinois claimed its fifth victory in loop action this season. Wisconsin has won only one conference game and lost eight. The Badgers are 3-14 for the season.

The sharpshooting Illini collected 22 of 40 shots in the second half to run their average to .55.

Roger Taylor and John Wesless share scoring honors for Illinois with 18 points each. But scoring honors for the game were captured by Wisconsin's Bob Barneson with 19. Rick Murray, with 11 points, was the only other Badger to hit in double figures.

The Badgers trailed all the way, though they were close for the first few minutes on the strength of free throws.

Schoendienst Operation Set For Thursday

Physician Says 'Red's' Recovery Will be Accelerated

St. Louis — P — If an operation scheduled Thursday for "Red" Schoendienst, second baseman of the Milwaukee Braves, goes well, "we can measure Red's convalescence in weeks rather than months," his physician says.

Schoendienst is bedfast with tuberculosis in Mount St. Rose hospital here where the operation will be performed.

The doctor said no surgery was originally anticipated but the operation might "accelerate recovery and Red may be better off for it in the long run."

It would "increase his chances of playing in 1960," the doctor said.

He described Schoendienst's recovery thus far as being excellent.

Schoendienst was admitted to the hospital Nov. 12 after being confined briefly at St. John hospital where the tuberculosis diagnosis was first made.

Vikes Seek to Snap Latest Losing Skein

Visiting St. Norbert Will Start Two Fox Cities Cagers Tonight

By JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Basketball losing streaks on the Lawrence college campus mushroom faster than weeds in a vegetable patch.

The latest wrong-way string has grown to six straight, and the Vikes hope to give it the DDT treatment tonight before it gets completely out of hand.

St. Norbert's Green Knights, winners of two straight over Lawrence since the resumption of their rivalry and possession of an 8-9 record this season, invade Alexander gym at 7:30 p.m.

Three seasons ago, Lawrence lost 17 in a row before beating Ripon. That set the stage for the all-time school record of 36 consecutive losses, which ended with a win over Cornell last February. Along came a 13-game chain of reverses, snapped in January, 1959, with a victory over Ripon.

Kosnar in Charge
Again, success endured for only one game, as the Vikes have since dropped six more.

The Don Boya-coached Apulemans will try to turn St. Norbert into Lawrence's first non-conference victim in four seasons. No Lawrence quint has beaten an extra-league foe since Oshkosh fell, 78-63, in December, 1955.

Directing strategy for the visitors will be Romie Kosnar, a standout in his under-

Face Colts, Rams in Milwaukee

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — The Packers will play the Bears, the Lions, the 49ers, and the Redskins at City stadium and the Rams and Colts in Milwaukee County stadium.

The division of Packer league opponents between Milwaukee and Green Bay, announced today by GM-Coch Coach Vince Lombardi, means that the Packers will continue their 4-2 split between the cities for the second straight year.

The Packers brought a fourth game to Green Bay in 1958 after attendance in beer-town faltered under the 3-3 setup.

Here's the Packers' home schedule:

Sept. 27—Chicago Bears at Green Bay.
Oct. 4 — Detroit Lions at Green Bay.
Oct. 11—San Francisco at Green Bay.
Oct. 18—Los Angeles at Milwaukee.
Nov. 15—Baltimore at Milwaukee.
Nov. 22 — Washington at Green Bay.

The third game, usually played in Milwaukee, was shifted to Green Bay to avoid conflict with a possible World Series. Lombardi said. This gives Green Bay three consecutive games at City stadium and the fourth game seven weeks later.

Tough Situation
The Packers ran into a tough situation a year ago when the seventh World Series game was played in Milwaukee on a Thursday before the Packers' game against the Colts. With little buildup in Milwaukee papers, due to the emphasis on the series, the game drew 24,553.

The Rams, who played here in 1953 for the first time in 10 years, went back to Milwaukee in an alternating move with the other West coast club. The 49ers played here the last time in 1956.

The Redskins' appearance here is history-making because George Marshall's

St. Louis — P — A 29-year-old Detroit welder gained the lead in the all-events division and a virtually unknown Chicago bowler moved to the top in the singles of the American Bowling congress tournament Monday.

For a while, Pat Stone, the Detroit welder, led both divisions. Then, Fred Kolcz of Chicago rolled 197-216-681 and replaced Stone as the singles leader in the fifty-sixth annual tournament.

Stone gained the singles lead on the third day of the 72-day tourney with a 664 series. That score gave him 1,870 for the 9-game course and put him at the top of the all-events division.

Spartan Five Nips NU, 71-68, Pads Lead to 2 Games

Purdue Dumps Indiana, 94-89, To Tie Hoosiers for Second

By The Associated Press

The Spartans of Michigan State appear rolling toward their first undisputed Big Ten basketball championship. If and when they clinch the title, they'll give an assist to Northwestern university's public address announcer.

Locked in a tight struggle Monday night with Northwestern and their lead being jeopardized by Indiana's defending champions, the Spartans gained momentum when it was announced that Purdue had defeated Indiana, 94-89.

"That did it as far as I'm concerned," said MSU Coach

"Fordy" Anderson after his team had squeezed out a 71-68 decision over Northwestern. "We knew we could win then."

The victory, coupled with Indiana's loss, gave Michigan State (8-2) a 2-game edge over Indiana and Purdue who are tied for second place with 6-4 records.

Anderson couldn't be pinned down on any title predictions but said:

"The team is thinking about the championship and the NCAA playoffs. But we still have to play them one at a time and we have four more to play, you know."

Anderson couldn't be blamed for being evasive about making predictions. He had just seen his Spartans take an 11-0 lead only to fall behind before MSU went ahead, 35-31, at the half.

8-Point Lead
In the second half, Michigan State piled up an 8-point lead but Northwestern, led by Willie Jones who topped all scorers with 30 points, rallied and held the lead with two minutes to play.

Four clutch free throws — two by Bob Anderregg and two more by Lance Olson — finally sealed the triumph. Once again, State's scoring balance and control of the boards paid off.

Michigan State was the only visiting team to win in Monday night's four Big Ten games. Aside from the Purdue triumph over Indiana, fourth place Michigan (5-4) kept alive its slim hopes with a 90-86 victory over Iowa (5-5) and Illinois (5-5) pushed Wisconsin (1-8) deep into the cellar, 93-54.

Assumption Frosh Beat St. Mary '5'

Wisconsin Rapids Assumption captured a 35-33 double overtime victory over the St. Mary of Appleton freshman basketball team in the losers' gym Sunday.

The score was tied at 33-all at the end of regulation time and after one overtime. St. Mary was stalling with 10 seconds left in the second extra period when Assumption's Bill Tracy stole the ball and scored a lay-up.

Paul Zeegers hit 17 points for the victors who were playing without playmaker, Bill Dedeker, who injured his back in the warmup drill. The loss was just the fourth in 21 games for St. Mary.

The St. Mary eighth grade team pocketed a 34-17 Catholic Boy conference victory over St. Mary of Menasha in the preliminary. The victors have an 8-0 league mark.

Kansas State Wins Again

Bradley Jars St. Louis, Aids Cincinnati Cause

By The Associated Press

Thanks to the chopping-block job Bradley and St. Louis have done on each other, Oscar Robertson, the player everybody wants to see—seems headed back to the NCAA basketball tournament again this year.

The Big O and the Cincinnati Bearcats just about wrapped up the Missouri Valley conference title and an NCAA berth Monday night without turning a finger. While they were idle, Bradley dragged challenger St. Louis into a second-place behind Cincinnati with a revenge 72-65 whipping at Peoria, Ill. Only last week, St. Louis had spilled Bradley at St. Louis.

Although Cincinnati has a game left with each team among six remaining conference tests, the Bearcats and the fabulous Oscar ought to be hard to catch now with an 8-0 slate compared to 7-2 for St. Louis and Bradley.

The loser in this case is the National Invitation tournament, which was angling to snap up Cincinnati and the crowd-luring Robertson in case they lost the Mo Valley race.

It was a big Monday night all around for the NCAA as national powers like Kansas State and Michigan State moved closer to nailing conference titles and automatic tournament bids. Kansas State (20-1) made it 10-0 in the Big Eight as Bob Boozer clicked for 21 points in a 75-55 victory over Oklahoma. Michigan State (14-3) opened its Big Ten lead to two games in a 71-68 squeaker at Northwestern.

In other features, Auburn rolled over Tulane, 79-56, for its thirtieth straight; Bailey Howell's 33 points led Mississippi State (21-1) over Georgia, 75-56; and Oklahoma City (18-4) celebrated its NIT berth announced earlier in the day with a 96-84 victory over Florida State.

West Virginia, using its regulars only half the time, buried the Virginia Military, 99-55, for its forty-sixth straight Southern conference victory.

No. 2 Notre Dame, hopeful of an "at large" berth in the NCAA competition, slipped a peg in prestige when Butler scored a 92-89 surprise in triple overtime.

Western Kentucky, another tournament hopeful, had a field day against Xavier's defending NIT champs, 94-67.

Kay Prasher Smacks 237 Singleton

Kay Prasher smashed a 237 game for Haupt's bar in the latest round of Air Corps league bowling at the Elks club. The game was the biggest of the Appleton women's league season.

"Birdie" Bauhs slugged a 542 for Pierce Auto. Piggly Wiggly (50-14) holds a 14 game league lead. The only other honor score was a 190 by Denise Lee.

Wally Hagman's 611 series for the Siroloins paced the Elks Knights of Columbus league. Bea Hagman shot a 516 for the Siroloins. The only other honor tally was "Nibs" DeYoung's 565. The Prime Ribs (27-9) lead the league by 54 games.

Ted Jansen's 562 for Millers (41-21) the first place team, was the top threesome in Hahn's Trinity wheel.

Graham Again Confers With CG Officials

New London, Conn. — Former Cleveland Brown quarterback Otto Graham and the Coast Guard academy officials gave one another a second look Monday. The "wanted" sign is apt to come out of the academy's window in a week.

Graham may then come permanently to New London where he would fill the vacant head football coaching post.

The 37-year-old football great was in Washington Monday to confer with Vice Adm. A. C. Richmond, commandant of the Coast Guard.

Graham said upon his return to Cleveland he would make up his mind in a week or so.

Wally Winter Topples 602 Builders' Set

A blazing 651 threesome by Fabian Ourada for McClone Lumber showed the way in the Monday night edition of Knights of Columbus American league kegling at the Elks club. One of his games was a 235.

Wally Winter slugged a 602 threesome for August Winter in the Builders' wheel at Hahn's. Dennis Bahcall clubbed a 238 for Bahcalls and finished with a 563.

glory. Both said they're happy to be in Green Bay. Cochrane said that he thought the selection of Randy Duncan as the Packers' No. 1 draft choice was a good one. The Lions intended to pick the Iowa quarterback if he hadn't been chosen before Detroit's turn.

Will Duncan sign with the Packers? "If he really wants to play pro football and has enough confidence in himself he'll sign with us," Cochrane opined. "As Coach Lombardi said, from now on it's up to Duncan."

The new coaches have not given up on Bart Starr and "Babe" Parilli as possible Packer quarterbacks in 1959. "Who our quarterback will be next fall depends on how they, and the others, adapt to the new offensive formations which we will install."

'Terrific Athlete'
The Bays' Paul Hornung was called a "terrific athlete who can do anything you ask," by Cochrane. Hornung, who has been a fullback during most of his 2-year Packer career, may be given a shot at the quarterback spot and at a Frank Gifford-type runner-passer role, Cochrane asserted.

Miller defended Hornung against the criticism he's received during his two seasons in Green Bay. "Paul is a very fine individual and one of the hardest-working players on the team. He has taken a lot of criticism he shouldn't have gotten."

Cochrane doesn't think that the Packers' chances of getting Baltimore quarterback knock of getting football's most heralded stars on his payroll, among them Ken Strong, Mel Hein, Bennie Friedman and "Tuffy" Lee-mans.

The Giants won four world championships 1927, 1934, 1938 and 1956 — and eight conference titles.

Pizzaro Leads Puerto Rican Loop in Whiffs

Posts 8-8 Record; Cepeda and Brandt 1-2 in Batting

By The Associated Press
Many National league players enjoyed sensational seasons during the winter in the organized leagues that dot the Caribbean area.

The San Francisco Giants practically dominated the Puerto Rican league with Orlando Cepeda and Jackie Brandt finishing 1-2 among the hitters. A former Giant, Ruben Gomez, now with Philadelphia, was the top pitcher in the same league.

First in Strikeouts
Juan Pizzaro, of Milwaukee, led the Puerto Rican league again in strikeouts with 139 as the pitcher returned home after another year split between Milwaukee and the Wichita farm. Juan had no better than an 8-8 record, however, including three shutouts. The Caguas manager also used him as an outfielder and pinch hitter.

Ray Rippelmeyer, a Brave farmhand who is not on the varsity roster, popped up with an 11-5 record, second best in the league. Only Gomez of the Phils did better.

Felix Mantilla was out of the lineup early in the winter, recuperating from an operation. He played his usual fine game at shortstop in Puerto Rico and batted .253. At the end of the season, he was reported in good physical condition.

Lee Mave, a rookie outfielder, reported after the Puerto Rican season opened. He wound up with a .287 average and hit six homers. He was one of the leaders in runs scored with 33.

Roy Shearer, another outfielder, was in Venezuela, where he finished third in homers with eight. In the playoffs, he batted .400 for Rapinos.

Humberto Robinson was home in Panama rolling up a 6-4 record. He led the league with a 2.22 earned run average and pitched the most innings, 81.

Giants' Mara Dies at 71

Tim Brought Fame to NFL Team

New York — Tim Mara, who brought the National Football league's New York Giants into the NFL, died at his home Monday night. He was 71.

Mara retired as the club's president 10 years ago. It has since been handled by his sons, John and Wellington. John is the Giants' president, and Wellington is secretary.

Buy Out Gibson
Mara invested 2,500, and with former heavyweight champion Gene Tunney's manager, Billy Gibson, activated the club in 1925. He later bought out Gibson.

The general Irishman had a knack of getting football's most heralded stars on his payroll, among them Ken Strong, Mel Hein, Bennie Friedman and "Tuffy" Lee-mans.

Pizzaro Leads Puerto Rican Loop in Whiffs

Posts 8-8 Record; Cepeda and Brandt 1-2 in Batting

By The Associated Press
Many National league players enjoyed sensational seasons during the winter in the organized leagues that dot the Caribbean area.

The San Francisco Giants practically dominated the Puerto Rican league with Orlando Cepeda and Jackie Brandt finishing 1-2 among the hitters. A former Giant, Ruben Gomez, now with Philadelphia, was the top pitcher in the same league.

First in Strikeouts
Juan Pizzaro, of Milwaukee, led the Puerto Rican league again in strikeouts with 139 as the pitcher returned home after another year split between Milwaukee and the Wichita farm. Juan had no better than an 8-8 record, however, including three shutouts. The Caguas manager also used him as an outfielder and pinch hitter.

Ray Rippelmeyer, a Brave farmhand who is not on the varsity roster, popped up with an 11-5 record, second best in the league. Only Gomez of the Phils did better.

Felix Mantilla was out of the lineup early in the winter, recuperating from an operation. He played his usual fine game at shortstop in Puerto Rico and batted .253. At the end of the season, he was reported in good physical condition.

Lee Mave, a rookie outfielder, reported after the Puerto Rican season opened. He wound up with a .287 average and hit six homers. He was one of the leaders in runs scored with 33.

Roy Shearer, another outfielder, was in Venezuela, where he finished third in homers with eight. In the playoffs, he batted .400 for Rapinos.

Humberto Robinson was home in Panama rolling up a 6-4 record. He led the league with a 2.22 earned run average and pitched the most innings, 81.

Roosevelt reversed an earlier, 48-44, loss to Kimberly with a vengeance here Monday, thumping the Frosh Papermakers, 61-39.

The decision — along with Menasha's 40-39 victory over Neenah — knocked Kimberly and Neenah from what had been a 4-way first place tie (with Roosevelt) and the Jays in the Fox Valley Freshman league.

Roosevelt led all the way in bouncing Kimberly Thursday. The victors held a 13-8 lead after one quarter and added to it in each succeeding period. It was 33-21 at the half and 43-26 at the three-quarters point.

Mike Lee scored 18 points for the victors and turned in a nifty passing job. John Wendt tallied 11 points and was a rugged rebounder. Rick Polman led Kimberly with 11 markers. Pat Keane tallied 10 points and Mike Flanagan nine for the victors who had a big shooting and rebounding edge and worked their fast break well.

Expect Veeck To Exercise Option Today

Chicago — Colorful Bill Veeck, former successful owner of the Cleveland Indians, was expected today to exercise his option to buy into the Chicago White Sox.

Veeck has called an afternoon press conference presumably to pick up the option which will enable him and his syndicate to buy 54 per cent of the club's stock from Mrs. Dorothy Comiskey Rigney.

Veeck's option runs out Wednesday. Once he takes up the option, the deal must be closed in not less than 15 days and not more than 45 days.

If and when the deal is closed, Veeck will pay Mrs. Rigney $1,750,000 in cash. Another $950,000 will be placed in escrow and will be paid Mrs. Rigney under three separate stipulations.

The other 46 per cent of stock in the club is held by Mrs. Rigney's brother Charles Comiskey.

Vikings Seek To End New Losing Skein

The Vikes lost, 75-73, also in overtime.

Jerry Lamers, backcourt flash from Kimberly, will lead the invaders. The 6-0 senior has averaged about 15 points a game. He is only 78 points shy of his coach's (Kosner) total of 1,234 in his quest to become the second highest career scorer in Knight history. Jim Ritchay ranks No. 1 with 1,368 points in four seasons.

Another Fox Cities eager, Appleton's Jim DeDecker (who prepped at Menasha St. Mary's), will be in the starting lineup. The 6-3 senior has come along well this season, averaging about 11.

Rounding out the St. Norbert starting array will be Bill Feller, 6-4 junior at center; Roy Smith, 6-2 senior, forward; and either Lee Guetschow, 6-1 senior, or Reg Herold, 5-10 freshman at guard.

The Knights were weakened with the second semester transfer of their little scoring ace, Gary Herold, to Stevens Point.

Lawrence will probably counter with an all-soph contingent—Jim Rasmussen, Bob Rust, Joe Lamers, Chuck Knoke and Jim Schulze. Except for a wane of a battle at Stevens Point and a good first half at Appleton, the Vikes have had trouble putting together a consistent attack in the second semester.

Frosh Game Slated

The Lawrence college freshman basketball team will play a preliminary game against the St. Norbert junior varsity at 6:30 p.m. today.

The Fox Valley Ski club will sponsor a night of free skiing (7 to 9 p.m.) Wednesday for all members at the Calumet county park.

Movies and refreshments are also scheduled. Club officials report that anyone interested in joining the club may do so at the park Wednesday.

Munn Calls Big Ten's Scholarship Setup 'Workable but Unrealistic'

BY DAVE DILES

East Lansing, Mich. — Biggie Munn suggests "let's be realistic about recruiting."

"The biggest and best companies in the world seek out the men best equipped for their top jobs," said the Michigan State University athletic director today. "So why shouldn't the universities go after the best athletic talent?"

Thrifty Parent Penalized

Munn, now in his sixth year as the Spartans' athletic director after coaching the school's football teams to national prominence, is a longtime member of the Big Ten's with aiming high. Every business committee on recruiting practices.

He favors a liberalization of recruiting practices to make it easier for a coach to contact prospective athletes.

The present Big Ten athletic scholarship setup, based on need, is "workable but unrealistic," said Munn.

"It penalizes the thrifty parent," he added. "If a father works hard and saves some money for his son's education, the rules state the boy can recruit only so much money because he has only so much need. But the father who doesn't care, who doesn't bother to save anything — his son can get a full ride because he needs more."

Munn said recruiting on a well-planned, aggressive basis is the key to success in athletics. "We built great teams at Michigan State because we had a real plan for recruiting. It was not an accident."

Munn disagrees with those who are critical of elaborate recruiting programs designed to produce top teams. He said, "There is nothing wrong

Wilson used a 20-4 scoring edge in the third quarter to break up a 19-16 ball game. Jerry Bishop scored 16 for Wilson while Jim Swanson hit nine. Gary Figlinski tallied nine for Madison.

Wilson's seventh grade team defeated Madison, 41-9.

Packers Will Play 4 Games In Green Bay

Washingtons never played a league game in Green Bay. The club has been here for non-leaguers but any Wisconsin Amateur Basketball league games involving the Packers and Redskins were always played in Milwaukee.

Baltimore will be making its sixth straight appearance in Milwaukee. The Colts last played in Green Bay in 1953 and started showing up in Milwaukee in 1954.

The Packers' six road league games are still indefinite, although reportedly they are scheduled to play in Detroit Thanksgiving day and on the West Coast for the 2-game league-season windup.

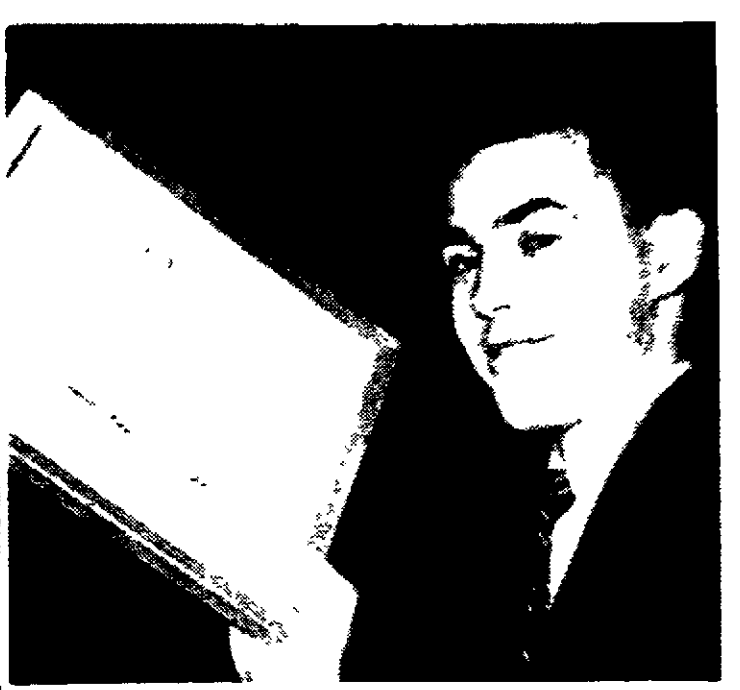

All of this leaves three holes for engagements at the Chicago Bears, Baltimore and one Eastern division club. The open dates are the consecutive Sundays of Oct. 25, Nov. 1 and Nov. 8.

One of the Milwaukee games might be played on Saturday night. Two reasons could be involved — television and the fact that Milwaukee has been a better "draw" at night for the Bays.

Lombardi was informed of Tim Mara's death at 2 a.m. today by long-distance telephone. He will leave Thursday to attend the funeral of the Giants' owner and founder.

Lombardi, who has been with the Giants for five years, paid tribute to his former employer today as "a great old man, a hard-nosed guy and one of the real men in pro football."

The Packers chief, who had intended to leave Friday, will be gone for about a week to complete the process of moving his family from his home in Fair Haven, N. J., to Green Bay.

Taxes More Liberal On Expense Sheets

BY SYLVIA PORTER

The expense account has now become an official tax-sheltered fringe benefit for top executives and other employees. For the treasury last year said it won't ask any questions about expense account reimbursements and outlays if the employee's spending is okay with the employer. In other words, if your employer requires you to account to him for your reimbursed expenses and you do so, that's a substitute for treasury examination of your expense account.

This is a terrific incentive for using expense accounts. The average employer has a far more generous view of what's an acceptable business outlay than the average treasury agent. The employer's view may be even more liberal when a key employee is involved.

Here's the story. For years, an employee reimbursed by his employer for travel, entertainment, etc., expenses has theoretically been expected to report the reimbursement as income on his tax return and show the outlays as deductions. In reality, practically no one has done this.

Phony Deductions
So in 1957, as part of a big drive on phony deductions, the treasury tried to write the theory into the tax return by adding a new line which required expense reimbursements to be reported as income. So sensational was the howl that went up from taxpayers that the treasury backed down, told taxpayers to forget about the new line in filling out their 1957 returns. But, it warned, get ready for your 1958 return. Then came one of the biggest switcheroos in treasury history. Instead of asking for something as tough as the 1957 return requirement (from which it retreated because taxpayers didn't have enough notice to keep records of their reimbursed expenses), the treasury in 1958 set up a blueprint enabling employees officially — not just in fact — to forget about keeping records of, or reporting expense accounts.

All that's necessary is for the employer to require the employee to account to him in writing for the expense reimbursements. This writing should show the business nature of the expense and its broad category — transportation, entertainment, etc. In this connection, note that use of an employer's credit card is an expense reimbursement requiring this kind of accounting.

Simple Question
If these easy requirements are met, the employee just has to answer two simple questions at the bottom of page one on his 1958 return, indicating that he received reimbursed expenses and accounting for them to his employer. And if the accounting requirements are met, not only is the employee excused from reporting expense account details; he also is ordinarily freed from the burden of having to support his expense account with records — except where the employee is a controlling stockholder of the corporation or the employer's accounting requirements are too flimsy.

One caution: If an employee claims business expense deductions in excess of his reimbursements, he is required to show his full reimbursement and expense deductions on his return. An employee who may have to pay some of his business expenses out of his own pocket will want to think twice, therefore, about opening all of his expenses to question by deduction. This comes within the new expense account rules, they don't do him too much good, because when a closely-held corporation's return is examined, the treasury practice is to examine the owner's return at the same time.

The corporation's deductions for amounts paid to its stockholder-officer are subject to especially careful scrutiny and the agents insist on it's hard to see how the treasury can even find these under-officer of a closely held corporation is an employee and disallowed, this will result in a double tax on that money — once to the corporation, then to the owner who must include the money advanced in his income.

One warning: While the new rules make the expense account a major fringe benefit for many executives, the top brass has warned of a crackdown if widespread, flagrant abuses are found. But the agents insist on it's hard to see how the treasury can even find these under-officer of a closely held cor-

You can play a real musical instrument in minutes... without lessons or experience

If you can read numbers, you can play any kind of music from classical to jazz—tonight, in your own home.

You simply match the numbers in the Song Books with the numbered keys of the Magnus Electric Chord Organ keyboard. You needn't know one note from another, though they're there for those who do. You play full, resonant chord accompaniment, too.

You, yes you press a key—and out comes MUSIC! Real music, full timbre, rich, mellow, and wide of range... vibrant with the authentic "breathing" of organ tones and overtones, because Magnus uses the same principle of passing air over reeds as you find in the mightiest church organs.

Truly, Magnus is unmatched at its price for workmanship, cabinetry, and tonal quality.

Monetary Record May Save Time, Tax Dollars

Now is the time to start a procedure that will aid you with next year's income tax calculations. That is to main- tain a record of your income and outgo. Such a record can save you tax dollars and many hours of work in filling out tax forms.

The average man who works for a wage or salary doesn't have to concern him- self about keeping books and records — at least so he thinks. His employer keeps a reliable record of his earn- ings and Uncle Sam and the state of Wisconsin look first to the employer for informa- tion on his earnings and for the withholding of various taxes out of his wages.

But whether or not you run a business of your own, you have a partner who each year is claiming a substantial in- terest in your personal in- come. BUICK LESABRE!

What your $200 gets you

First, of course, you get the difference of owning a Buick... you get an important car with an impor- tant name. Buick's size and roominess. Wonderful quietness. And great style!... The new Buick has been named by Motor Trend magazine as "the best looking car of the year, overall." Just these advantages would be well worth the money.

You get Buick's "extras" in quality

"Best-performing Buick ever!"... "Best-operating car I've driven in 30 years!"... "Much the best Buick yet!"... That's how owners describe this '59 Buick. And no wonder! Here you get the new Equipoise ride, finest ride in all Buick history. You get Buick's exclusive fin-cooled brakes, with front drums of fast-cooling aluminum. You can enjoy these great extra benefits... with no extra price put on them.

You get new economy, too

The '59 Buick cars were engineered to deliver im- proved gas mileage. Reports from owners show 15 to 18 miles per gallon not at all unusual. In a recent set of thorough tests of LeSabre against another car of comparable size and also known for economy, LeSabre gave the better mileage every time.

And in new Twin-Turbine or Triple-Turbine trans- missions, you get the smoothest type of automatic drive yet developed. So drop in soon to see and drive this truly exceptional car. You'll be very glad you did!

Krueger's Win To Take Lead In City Loop

Two Teams Tie for Second Place With Four Wins, One Loss

Kaukauna — A 2-way tie for second place developed in the City Basketball league Sunday as two favorites won and Krueger furniture downed Shamrock, another co-leader going into fifth round action, to take over the league lead.

The opening afternoon game saw Farrell-Miller defeat Gustman 82 to 41. Both teams played with only four men. The winners have two wins and three defeats while the losers have dropped five straight. Farrell-Miller led 20-7 at the end of the quarter, 50-21 at halftime and 60-31 at the end of three periods. Bob Smith hit 33 points for the winners on 18 baskets and two free throws while Jack Lettau led the losers with 15 points.

Arnold's bar won its fourth game in five starts, downing Thilco 84 to 63. The winners led 27-19 at the quarter, 52 to 31 at the half and 68-44 going into the final frame. Thilco now has a record of one win and four defeats. Pat Caspersen hit 25 and Dick Busse hit 21 for the winners while Ken Roloff scored 22 for the losers.

Close Contest
The best game of the day was the opening contest which saw Sully's bar build up an early lead and then fight off a Coppes' rally to take a 47-46 decision. The winners now have four wins and one defeat while Coppes' have the reverse record.

The winners held a slim 20-16 lead at the end of the first period hitting 14 of 17 free throw tries. They led 30-24 at the half and 36-34 at the end of three quarters. The winners won from the free throw stripe hitting 23 charity tosses while the losers held a 19-12 edge in field goals but connected on only eight gift tosses. Cliff Hinkins hit 17 for the winners while Tom Kilsdonk hit 18 for the losers.

The final game saw Krueger, five wins and no defeats, decision Shamrock bar, three wins and two setbacks. The winners trailed 13-12 at the end of the quarter but moved to a slim 31-30 halftime edge. The leaders poured on the coals in the third frame to lead 52 to 37 and then matched the losers point total in the final frame for a 69-54 decision.

Jim Rausch hit 36 points for the winners while Ron Newhouse had 15 for the losers.

Damage to Car, Tree In Little Chute Mishap

Little Chute—Village police reported about $135 damage to a car and $100 damage to a tree on a terrace at Lincoln and Madison street about 8 p.m. Sunday when a car driven by Clifford Van Dalen, Pine street, Little Chute, slid on slippery streets, jumped a curb and snapped off the tree. Van Dalen was traveling north on Madison and as he attempted to turn the car skidded, according to police.

Playoff for Cage Crown

Gene's to Meet Joe's Recreation At Little Chute

Little Chute — Gene's Bar will battle Joe's Recreation for the second half championship in the Village Basketball league at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the St. John High gym.

Both teams finished the second round with identical 5-1 records forcing the playoff. Gene's had to count a 56 to 49 victory over Joe's in the last round of games for the title tie.

Should Gene's win the playoff game they also would take the league championship since the squad captured the first half title. However, if Joe's should win the playoff tilt it would force another game Feb. 25 for the crown.

In the last set of games Joe's had a 24 to 21 halftime lead but Gene's fought back to cop the game in the final period. Paul Lamers paced the attack for the winners with 18 points while Ted Evers bagged 13. For Joe's, Gene Jansen led the scoring with 10.

Fitzpatrick Insurance tipped Cease's DX Service 46 to 22 in the other loop game.

KHS Ranks Fourth In Forensic Members

Kaukauna—Kaukauna High school ranks fourth in the state in National Forensic league memberships this year, according to state statistical reports received recently by Howard Fenske, NFL adviser.

With 41 students holding degrees, the high school ranks behind West Bend, Marquette and Pius XI high schools.

Three KHS Juniors Apply for Travel Overseas This Summer

Kaukauna—Three Kaukauna High school juniors are being screened by a committee in New York for possible travel and living overseas for a 6 to 7-week period this summer.

The students are Barbara Boyd, Sheila Rohan and Carol Wollangk. One of the three students are eligible, if approved by the committee, as for wishing to go overseas. Kaukauna High school has had one foreign exchange student attending classes during the past year.

Five students originally applied to a local committee for consideration but only three made the final application. The local committee, consisting of a student, a representative of the school and a representative of the community, interviewed various applicants and reviewed all applications.

The application must include a statement of purpose, proof of financial resources, and other information. Big task for the New York committee is finding a home to suit the personality of the student applying. American students going overseas during the summer will not attend classes but rather will learn by living with foreign people, learning their habits and facts about their country. To apply a student must have had a foreign language but he or she will not necessarily be sent to a country matching the language studied.

Scholarship Rules to Summer Music Clinic Read to Band Mothers

Kaukauna — The rules for scholarship application to the summer music clinic at the University of Wisconsin were read to the Band Mothers club by Mrs. Paul Nagan at the last meeting.

Band members at Kaukauna High school are eligible to apply for the scholarships which are financed by the band mothers. A covered dish supper was served under the direction of Mrs. Howard Voet. Mrs. Mike Weber, Mrs. John Esler, Mrs. Edwin Van evenhoven and Mrs. Ralph Bastian. The next meeting will be March 15 in the Youth Center.

Ethel Van Zeeland In 202 at Kimberly

Kimberly—Ethel Van Zeeland hit a 202 game for the top honors in the Ladies league at Shy's alleys.

Kimberly Motors are in first place with a two game lead over Connie's Bar. Clover Farm Store is third, three games out of second.

Brooks won two games to hold the lead with a 42-21 mark while Keller implemented lost two games and tied a third to remain in second with a 36-24 mark.

The only other honor counts were a 556 set by Wilfred Van Abel and a 554 by Bob Eiting.

WCOF Change Policy For Lenten Meetings

Kaukauna — No committees for refreshments were appointed for a meeting of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters. Sacred Heart Court 556, at 8 p.m. Wednesday at St. Mary's hall as the organization has cancelled social activity for the lenten season.

Legion Women Plan To Initiate Members

Kaukauna — Initiation of members will highlight a meeting of the American Legion auxiliary at 7 p.m. Thursday at the Golden Age clubrooms in the municipal building.

A business meeting will get underway at 8 p.m. Members are to bring an item to contribute toward a lunch.

Permit Issued for Remodeling Home

Kaukauna — Russell Nackers, 903 Lawe street, was issued a building permit for minor alterations to his home and construction of a new chimney by Lothar Kemp, assistant building inspector.

Cost of the work was estimated at $500.

WCOF Meeting

Little Chute — The Women's Catholic Order of Foresters will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Forester hall. A card social will follow the business meeting.

Conway Hotel Work Bid Date March 3

Project Calls For Building Of 72 Rooms

Bids for demolition and construction in the more than $750,000 Conway hotel replacement - addition project will be opened March 3, John Conway reports.

Demolition and construction will be bid separately. Completion of work is expected within 14 months.

The work is the first major hotel construction in the Fox Cities since 1924, when the 6-story addition east of the main lobby was erected.

Work this time calls for demolition of the 4-story structure at the southeast corner of Oneida and Washington streets and reconstruction of a 6-story building of 72 rooms. The project will add 42 rooms to the hotel's present accommodations.

Recommendations
Conway reported the bid date to the city council's street and sanitation committee in asking permission

Cage Tourney Wednesday in Kimberly League

Kimberly—The first round of tournament play for the Village Basketball league will be played Wednesday night on the clubhouse court, according to Dick Waldhart, loop president.

Dud's Inn and Bill's Bar will meet in the first game at 7 p.m. and Milt's Barbershop will clash with Shy's alleys at 8 p.m.

Milt's won the league title this season with a 10-2 record, while Shy's was runnerup with a 9-3 mark. Dud's had a 5-7 slated and Bill's had 12 straight losses.

The finals of the tourney will be played Feb. 25 with the two losers meeting at 7 p.m. for the consolation crown and the championship will be at 8 p.m.

Denies Drunken Driving Charge

Charles L. Fuller, 19, 1627 Evans street, Oshkosh, in municipal court today pleaded innocent of drunken driving.

He posted $118.95 bond and trial was set March 9.

Fuller was arrested by Appleton police at Richmond and Packard streets after he skidded past a patrol car stopped at the intersection.

CVV Unit to Meet

Kimberly — Members of the Catholic War Veterans auxiliary will meet at 7:30 Wednesday at Holy Name grade school cafeteria.

Appleton's Milk Supply Called Good

State Health Board Survey Rates City for National Honor Roll

A survey of Appleton's milk supply by the state board of health on Jan. 13 has resulted in a commendation for the city government.

The enforcement rating of 95.22 per cent is an indication of the fine work carried out by Halverson your milk sanitarian. The rating of 93 per cent on the pasteurized milk supply indicates that a high quality safe milk supply is available to consumers," reports H. E. Wirth, assistant state sanitary engineer.

Because of the pasteurized milk supply rating, the city is being recommended to the federal public health service for inclusion on the national honor roll of communities which have excellent ratings, Wirth said.

Five Plants
A total of five pasteurization plants and 25 farms were included in the survey. The ratings were 94 per cent for plants as a group, 92 per cent for farms and 95.22 per cent on enforcement.

The survey found a half dozen of the more serious violations in plants.

It found "there are still certain improvements which can be made" on dairy farms.

Edwin T. Halverson, city sanitarian, is capable of taking care of the faults, Wirth said.

Recommendations
These recommendations were made by the survey inspector:

1. More attention be given to those items constituting the faults.

2. Halverson make a special effort to set up training programs for plant personnel and also provide informational meetings for producers.

L. C. Smith Named Head Of Workshop

3 Others Elected; Stevens, Seaborne Made Directors

L. C. Smith has been elected president of the Fox Valley Sheltered workshop.

Three other officers were reelected for 1959. They are John Mitchell, vice president; Edward Adam, treasurer; and Mrs. Hazel Leedke, secretary.

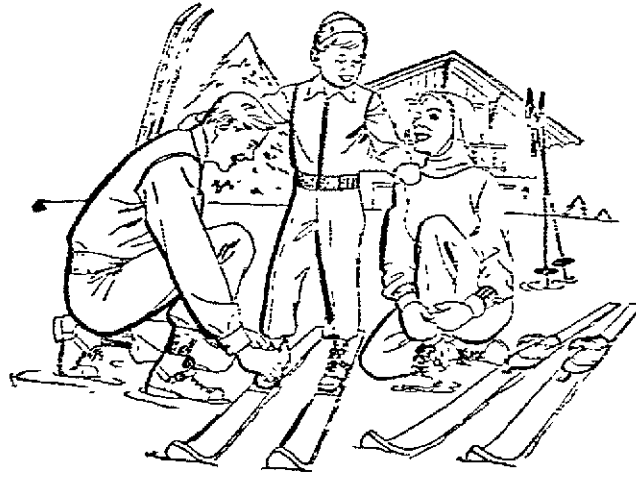

John Stevens, former president of Marathon corporation, and vice president of American Can company, now retired, and Charles R. Seaborne, former executive vice president of Thilmany Pulp and Paper company, also retired, were elected to fill two vacancies on the board of directors.

17 Employed
The annual report noted 17 handicapped people were employed by the workshop at various times during 1958. Of those, eight were from Appleton, four from Neenah, two from Kaukauna and one each from Menasha, Seymour and Hilbert.

Sixteen area firms provided work for the handicapped, amounting to $28,694. Total assets of the corporation as of Dec. 31 were listed at $34,761.

It was decided that anyone who makes a contribution of funds, equipment, services or projects for the Sheltered Workshop would be made a member.

The workshop is looking for more projects. George Kuehnel is workshop manager.

Much Effort Wasted, but Everyone's Busy and Clean

BY DR. SRIPATI CHANDRASEKHAR
Writes for the Associated Press

A major aspect of the Chinese scene that cannot escape one is that the whole nation is at work, hard at work, 24 hours a day.

Three shifts in a textile mill or a steel plant are understandable for technical reasons. In communist China people do everything on a day and night basis. I was told about this by my Chinese friends and I did not believe it. But it was brought home to me at 1 a.m. one morning when I was driven to the Peiping hotel, where I was staying, after a dinner with some Chinese officials.

I saw that both sides of the road were brightly lit by a million electric lights strung in festoons as in a fairyland. I was told that these lights meant that people were working. I stopped the car and inquired. It was true.

Some 2,000 workers nearby were building the new Peiping opera house so that it might be ready for the tenth anniversary of the revolution. The work had been going on night and day on a 3-shift basis.

Cleanliness in the "new China" is astounding. Women have achieved full equality with men. Most striking, says a distinguished Indian observer who traveled widely in red China, is the eerie spectacle of a huge nation totally absorbed in ceaseless labor. This is the second of five articles.

various technological research institutes that will carry on research in steel, oil, water conservation, etc. These institutes are usually completed in three or four months.

I have visited many parts of the world — in Asia, Europe and the Americas — but I have not seen anywhere men and women of all ages work this hard day and night. This tremendous effort is not confined to any particular segment of the economy but embraces practically every field of human endeavor.

Not only do the Chinese work all the time, but they work in massive numbers. You see 20 people pulling a loaded cart — some pulling with ropes like animals, some pushing from behind. One would expect, in a "people's democracy," that people would not be substituted for animals. But I have even seen men and women pulling a plough.

The reason for this phenomenon is that people are at the beck and call of the regime and need not be paid high wages. So the economy can afford to waste human labor which, in terms of human dignity and monetary value, means nothing. What could be accomplished by two people is done by 20.

'Labor Shortage'
And yet, paradoxically, everyone from the minister and departmental head down will tell you seriously that China is underpopulated and that there is an acute labor shortage.

A further new aspect of the Chinese scene concerns the position of women. Their traditional role was confined to the bearing and rearing of numerous children. The wife had no rights except as the mother of sons. In times of famine it was the girl baby or the young daughter who was sold to the landlord or to those who ran the houses of ill-fame.

All this has been radically changed. The Chinese woman has become the equal of man with a vengeance, legally, politically, morally. The double standard of morality has gone. There is no prostitution. The Chinese woman is no longer under the supervision of her father, husband, or son. There is no job that is not open to her.

I have seen women in steel mills, textile factories, heavy tools plants; they drive huge lathes, operate 2-ton hammers, control traffic in big cities, run cultural centers, obtain an abortion or a divorce without too much bother, and can do denounce their husbands at party meetings if they suspect them of rightist and bourgeois tendencies.

The Chinese woman has finally come into her own. On the debit side, she has ceased useful—all in padded blue uniforms with nothing to distinguish them from men.

Great Sanitation

The final striking aspect in the new China is cleanliness. Public health and sanitation are attended to with positive vigor. There are literally no flies, no rats, no dogs, and no sparrows in China. (The destruction of sparrows was not to improve public health but to save grain, which the sparrows would otherwise eat.)

Nobody any longer spits anywhere he likes. Streets and pavements are all swept clean—and they stay clean, morning, noon and night.

I did not see a single Chinese throw a banana skin or a cigaret butt on floor or pavement. Hundreds go about with white cotton masks covering their mouths and noses, as they might sneeze and spread colds.

At an exhibition in Harbin, I was shown a peasant's invention called a rat detector. It is like a stethoscope, with a small amplifying motor mechanism in the middle and long tapering antennae. You put the "stethoscope" to your ears and place the ends into the suspected rat hole and you can hear the slightest noise of the remotest rat.

How are the streets and sidewalks kept clean? Apart from the regular methods employed by other countries (providing efficient sanitary staff and appealing to the civic conscience of the people) China uses the free and patriotic services of children between 8 and 12. These youngsters, called "Young Pioneers," in red scarves (the communist equivalent of Boy Scouts and Girl Guides) stand on the pavements morning and evening and shout through cardboard megaphones, "Don't spit, don't spit" in a monotonous chorus.

In a crowded street in Peiping I saw an old man spit on the pavement. A Young Pioneer immediately took him by the arm and asked him, "Comrade, what will Chairman Mao say when he hears that you spat?" The old man was unconscious of the act but offered profuse apologies and disappeared into the crowd promising better behavior worthy of a comrade-citizen in future.

Appleton Man Fined In Justice Court for Inattentive Driving

Little Chute — Thomas L. Sprister, 1424 Hall avenue, Appleton, pleaded guilty to a charge of inattentive driving when arraigned before Anton Jansen, justice of the peace, Saturday, and was fined $10 and costs and had his driver's license revoked for 30 days. Sprister was arrested by Little Chute police Thursday when he lost control of his car, slid off the road and hit a snowbank.

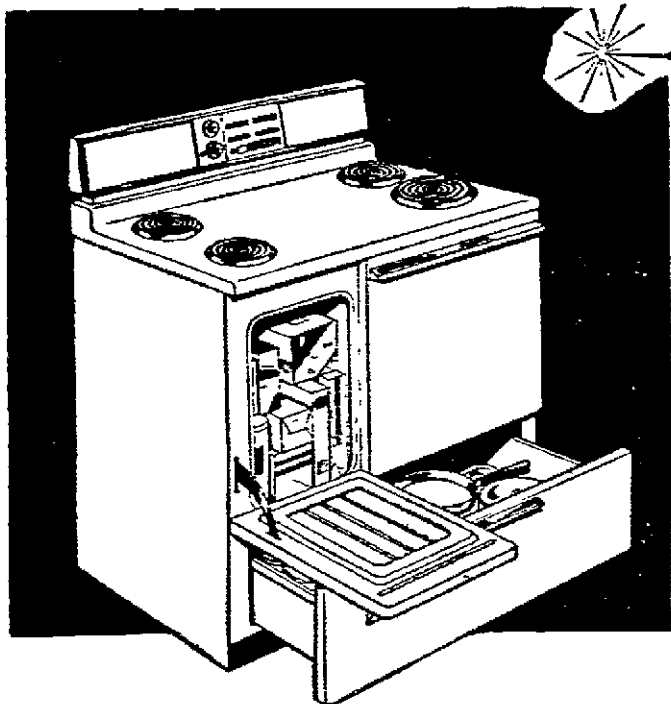

Workers Man a Motor-Pulled rice harvesting machine in a paddy in red China. Despite China's tremendous reserve of cheap labor, mechanized means of farming keep growing to provide food in "the big leap forward" in agriculture. Agricultural production is rising as all cultivatable land is being put to use.

'All-American Boy' in Third Week as Top Tune

New Numbers Coming Up Fast are 'I've Had It,' 'Alvin's Harmonica'

BY DICK DISC

For the third week in a row, the "All-American Boy" by Billy Parsons is the top tune in the valley. A newcomer to the charts, "I've Had It," a speedy little number by the Bell Notes is in second place this week.

New tunes in the top tunes are: "Alvin's Harmonica" with David Seville and his old Chipmunk friends, "It Doesn't Matter Anymore," a tune featuring Buddy Holly with a pretty string backing, "The Story of Love," and "Fake Out" by Frankie Sardo.

Here are the top tunes of the week:

1. "The All-American Boy" by Billy Parsons.
2. "I've Had It" by the Bell Notes.
3. "Apple Blossom Time" by Tab Hunter.

4. "It Doesn't Matter Anymore" by Buddy Holly.
5. "The Children's Marching Song" by Mitch Miller.
6. "Fake Out" by Frankie Sardo.
7. "Alvin's Harmonica" by David Seville and the Chipmunks.

8. "Stagger Lee" by Lloyd Price.
9. "The Story of Love" by Conway Twitty.

10. "Tall Paul" by Annette.

The national record survey of Billboard puts "Stagger Lee" in top position, runner up spot goes to "Sixteen Candles" by the Crests.

"The Pussycat Song" was a big one 10 years ago, and do you remember "Heart Of My Heart?" It was a big hit only five years ago.

New Tunes of the week include:

"The Shag" by Billy Graves, a tune that is the basis for a new dance step. It has a good beat and features some pretty good singing. The tune's merit however, is in the dance step that could become famous from it.

"Fried Eggs" by the Intruders is an instrumental of the twangy guitar Duane Eddy type. The number has excellent dancing potential and is generally good in rhythm and sound.

New Albums

For LP Fans Only" by Elvis Presley. Elvis takes off on a good variety of tunes in his latest album. Included are the recent "Poor Boy" and some others such as "I'm Left, You're Right, She's Gone" and a good rendition of "Mystery Train." The album features some excellent full color shots of Elvis too.

"Welcome to the Club" with Nat King Cole. More smooth singing here. The man of song manages to do a fine job warbling some near jazz numbers. Included are "Mood Indigo," "The Late Late Show," and the "Wee Baby Blues." All good stuff.

"Wild Bill Davis Swings Hit Songs from 'My Fair Lady'" with Wild Bill Davis and the band. This jazz version of the you remember "Heart Of My

BY BOB THOMAS

Hollywood — "Some times you wonder if perhaps you waited too long to die. You sit around the house and you find nothing to do. Life begins to lose its meaning. That's when it's time to go back to work."

Donald Crisp, 78, was explaining why he continues being active in movies and now is making his first dip into television. Thursday he makes his TV debut in a "Playhouse 90" drama.

He was one of the founders of the motion picture industry, became a top director of silent films, then one of the most reliable of character actors. The industry gave him its highest honor, the Academy award, for his performance in "How Green Was my Valley" in 1941.

Financial Rewards Financial rewards have been his, too. The great banking tycoon A. P. Giannini en-

After a busy life, Crisp looked forward to spending his late years with the hobbies and interests he neglected in more than 50 years of movie making. But personal tragedy intervened.

"My wife (Jane Murfin) died two years ago," he said. "It was a great loss to me. She was a writer, you know—wrote 'Smiling Through.' We had a l w a y s discussed our work together."

So he returned to work. He turned in his usual polished performance as the cardinal who opposed politico Spencer Tracy in "The Last Hurrah." This Thursday he is making his TV debut in a drama over CBS' "Playhouse 90."

Break in Water Main Gets Grade Pupils Holiday

Little Chute — Students at St. John Grade school were back at regular classes today after an unexpected holiday Monday because of a water main break in front of the school.

Street commissioner Lam-bert Leygraaf said repair John High school which is lo-work on the main was completed about 2:30 p.m. Mon-day.

The main break was discovered about 10:30 Saturday night but crews did not work on it Sunday because of the heavy amount of traffic near St. John church.

Another break occurred Sunday morning on Vanden Brook street and crews had to work throughout the day to complete repairs there.

The break in front of the grade school did not affect St. John High school which is lo-cated across the street.

John Carradine Star of Show In Milwaukee

'My Three Angels' Opens Monday at Miller Theater

Actor John Carradine has been signed to star in "My Three Angels," fourth production this season at the Fred Miller theater, Milwaukee. The Broadway comedy hit will open next Monday and play through March 7 at the Milwaukee playhouse, following the current production of Clifford Odets' "Country Girl," starring Nancy Coleman. The Broadway show which played to full houses for a year in New York City is an adaptation of Albert Husson's 11.

"La Cuisine des Anges," Samuel and Bella Spewak, famous husband and wife writing team, wrote the American version.

The scene of the farce is French Guiana, a region where the temperature gracefully drops to 104 degrees on Christmas day and where convicts can hire themselves out. The play concerns three convicts and the hopelessly honest family they aid. The criminals believe that the simplest way to deal with a Scrooge is to "bump him off" rather than attempt conversation.

Name Nominators

Romantic Africa Now Has 'Civilized' Air, Bob Says

Ruark

Nairobi, Kenya, British East Africa — It is almost nine years since I first hit this town and, of course, the faces are more familiar now — more of the young bloods, now fathers and men of property. But the face and the feeling of the town has lifted, since I was here two, three, four or six years ago. There is a magnificent new airport at Eastleigh now, new hotels, a building, vast new office buildings, slum clearances. You no longer get the striking impact of the smell and feel of Africa, the howling reeking bazaars, in which every smell known to the East mingled in one magnificent heady stench.

The noises were as exciting as the sights and smells. Shrill dialects mingled with the blare of Indian and Arabic radio broadcasts and the screech of hand-cranked phonographs. Women shouted and dogs barked and children played in between the piling legs of the adults.

Natives Come to Town Then you could see the bush native come to town and occasional haughty Masai wearing nothing but a spear wire ornaments, red-clay make-up and a goatskin cloak . . . and old-fashioned Kikuyu with enormous carved wooden plugs in the distended lobes of his ears, women clad only in a 1-piece wraparound kiko, with the invariable baby slung on their backs, a tiny woolly head peeping from under an armpit.

The colors of the people ranged from shining plumb black to the lighter Swahilis from the coast, the ivory-skinned Arabs in Delahab and Caftan the swarthy Greeks and the sallow East Indians the ferociously bearded Sikhs in brilliant turbans, the hawk-faced nomads from the northern deserts.

It all seemed very romantic, that first time because in the next few days I would be going out in the vast plains of Africa to shoot a lion. Every romantic about the town was eddying crowds on people and persons attacks on Delamere avenue and Gov. the eminent road, the black traffic policemen in neat khaki uniforms and high blue wool socks the settlers in shorts and floppy hats, the busy drinkers in the bars at the New Stanley and the Norfolk hotels the waiters and room boys in white night which at the time was de-dresses called kanzus who padded silently barefoot of the state of the restless world of color.

That was colonial Kenya (Copyright, 1959)

Deputy Sheriffs Get Hot Plate Special

Niagara Falls, N.Y. — Firemen broke up a Niagara County Deputy Sheriffs' association dinner, but it was strictly in line of duty.

The deputies were eating in a restaurant when the building in which it is located caught fire.

Rest in Peace

Valparaiso, Ind. — A longtime member of the Valparaiso fire department has been retired from duty — and hung on the firehouse wall. It's a battered old dishpan, retired with appropriate ceremony after 30 years of faithful service.

That was the country in which every native, regardless of age, was called "boy" by white men, and less than 10 years ago.

Now it has changed. The slums and the old bazaar quarters have been razed — burnt down during the Mau Mau terror. You do not see so many natives clustered in the streets any more, not in the swarming knots of yesterday because the history of the bitter Mau Mau conflict has made mobs unpopular.

The natives in town seem better dressed than before. All most all of them wear European clothing. They no longer seem to stare flatly with the African's masked gaze, but look more slyly.

Mau Mau has come and has been put down, and a new set order, the K.K.M., seems to have been effectively distorting. But isolated attacks on people and persons attacks and have increased, and the paper is full of politics bordering on violence. Somehow you hear a low mutter of dissent in Africa, thunders which will not be followed by the relatively brief scall that was Mau Mau, who scurried as a ulcer indicative of the state of the restless world of color.

3 Youths to Plead Feb. 23 On 2 Charges

All Returned to Jail When They Can't Post Bonds

Three rural Tomahawk youths were arraigned in municipal court Monday for burglary and theft of a car from an Appleton dealer's garage Jan. 25. They will make their pleas Feb. 23.

They are Charles W. Oesterreich, 20, his brother, Edward G., 17, and Frank D. Hanford, 21.

All were returned to jail when they failed to post $3,000 bond each.

Police charge the three youths, assisted by Ronald Pahlke, 21, Appleton, broke into the garage and stole a car. The Tomahawk youths were arrested in Lincoln county after the car was found near Merrill.

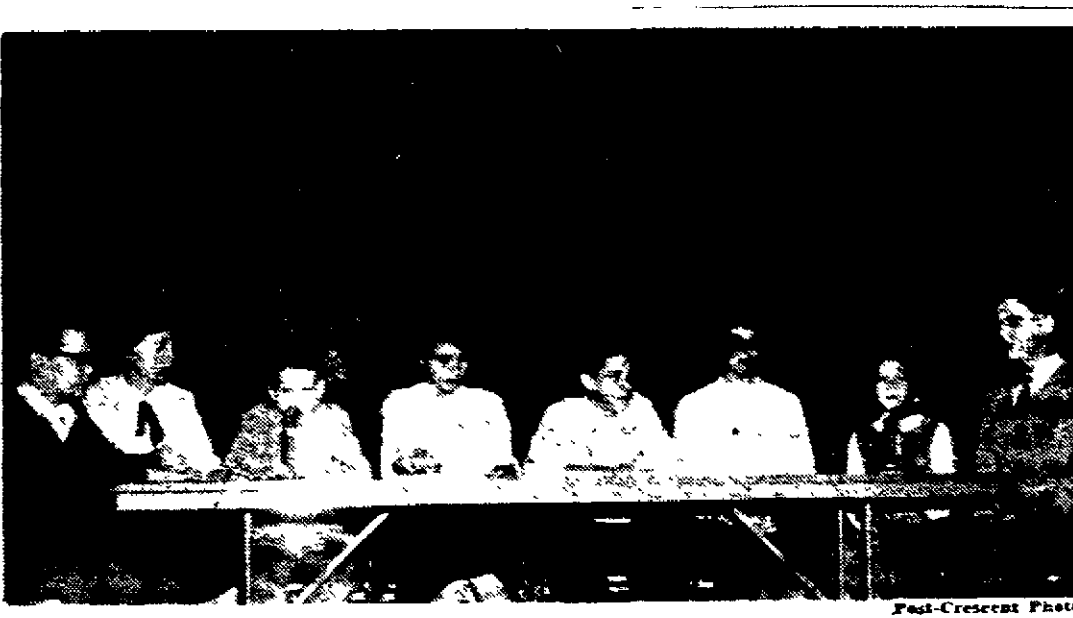

Pahlke pleaded innocent to the charges on Feb. 6 and will stand trial in March.

Pahlke was sentenced to state prison for not less than one year nor more than 2 1/2 years for aggravated assault after he attacked police officers who were taking him in for questioning about the burglary-theft.

Theft Sentences

The Tomahawk youths earlier were sentenced in Lincoln county for a series of thefts, including 14 cottage burglaries. They will face further charges after release from prison, the Lincoln county district attorney said today.

At time of the thefts the youths were on probation for forging checks totalling $2,200, the district attorney said.

State Bank Deposits Up by $202 Million

Madison (AP)—Deposits in state banks in Wisconsin increased some $202 million last year and reached a new high of $2,412,000,000, bank commissioner G. M. Matthews said Monday.

Matthews said the increase in deposits compared with about $107,000,000 for the previous year.

Driver Fined $25 for Making Improper Turn

Duaine E. Havemann, 29, 125 1/2 Parkway avenue, Combined Locks, was fined $25 in municipal court today for making an improper turn.

He was arrested by Appleton police Monday. They said he forced another car off the street while turning at John and Meade streets.

Havemann was charged three points for the violation, three more for the accident.

James Eggert, 18, 1518 W. Spencer street, was fined $25 and charged six points and Richard D. Strutz, 17, 733 E. Grant, had his license revoked for 60 days for reckless driving.

They were arrested Sunday after police spotted them racing on N. Division street.

Arden Olson, 35, route 2, Appleton, was fined $10 and charged three points for driving the wrong direction on a 1-way street.

June M. Trass, 45, 745 Congress place, Neenah, pleaded innocent of inattentive driving.

She posted $28.95 bond and trial was set March 3.

See Democratic Aid For Federal Budget

Leaders Plan to Help Ike Despite Talk of Politics

Washington — Congressional Democratic leaders apparently are planning to help President Eisenhower try to balance the budget despite their contention he is playing 1960 politics in this field.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas has urged colleagues on the senate appropriations committee to prune deeply into the regular money bills as they come along.

Johnson also has asked for early hearings on Eisenhower's request for a $1,375,000,000 contribution to the international monetary fund and an increase of $3,175,000,000 in the world bank.

The Democratic leader has made it clear he has no intention of delaying action on this measure until after June 30.

Any such delay would understand Eisenhower is asking for speedy action on the monetary fund proposal and other requests in an effort to "dump all of these things into this year's deficit."

$195,000 in Sewer Plans Approved

Highway 41 Storm Carrier, River Crossing Involved

Plans for a $145,000 storm sewer and a $50,000 sanitary sewer project were approved Monday by the city council's street and sanitation committee.

Bids probably will be taken sometime in April, Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski said.

The storm sewer will be placed on the south side of Highway 41 between Meade Street and Ballard road. It will vary in pipe size from 48 inches in diameter to 66 inches.

When completed, the storm carrier will empty into an open ditch at the Ballard road and Highway 41 corner.

Board Okays New Addition

Vocational School Directors Accept Building Plans

Designs and floor plans for a $70,000 addition to the existing trades building at the Vocational and Adult school have been accepted by the board of directors.

The board Monday approved the plans, with several minor changes. One involved a heating problem, which arose when it became apparent present heating facilities are inadequate. The architect, Raymond LeVee, estimated new centrally-located boilers would cost about $25,000.

The proposed addition would have 6,900 square feet of floor space. Tentative plans call for summer construction. The building would house a new auto shop, a shop room, warehouse and storage space.

The auto shop would include a 16 by 33 foot paint spraying booth, large enough for the city to paint trucks during periods when the booth is not being used for school purposes.

Added Parking Space

Plans call for a driveway and additional parking space to accommodate about 75 cars according to Carl G. Bertram, school director.

Bertram pointed out the building would have concrete flooring and exposed, surface-mounted pipes to reduce costs.

In other action, the board voted to raise the $1 minimum course fee to $2 for the next school year, starting July 1. That would bring in an additional $2,000 to $2,500, according to Bertram.

Officers re-elected were E. C. Hilfert, president; William MacFarlane, vice president; and R. W. Mahony, secretary.

Two members of the common council school committee were present to examine plans and discuss the building.

Investigation Continues

Missing Witnesses Case Pops Up Again

The case of the missing witnesses, which led to dismissal of traffic and bad conduct charges against a Kaukauna youth last month, remains under investigation, the Outagamie county board learned today.

During routine acceptance of last month's committee minutes, supervisors wanted to know why County Patrolman Stanley Arnold had complained about not being notified of a case in municipal court.

Supv. Patrick Heenan, chairman of the traffic police and radio committee, said the charges against Daniel Huss, 19, 909 Desnoyer street, Kaukauna, were dismissed after a jury was called because no arresting officer or any of the four witnesses appeared.

Letter Copy

Subsequent committee investigation indicated Dist. Atty. George Greisch said he had a carbon copy of a letter to Arnold notifying him of the trial date. Arnold said he never got the letter. Greisch was unable to appear before the committee and is slated to talk to it this month.

Supv. Sylvester Esler said the "district attorney had no answers. . . he is trying to blame it on the officer. . . now Kaukauna people are claiming the officer was in the wrong on the arrest."

Heenan complained, "There are so many conflicting stories. The trial was at 2 p.m., the jury was there and Arnold was called at 2:05 p.m. when he was in Seymour, off duty, and told to come to court."

"Arnold says he never got a letter and that the four witnesses were never notified," Heenan explained.

Supv. Walter F. Fredericks added, "We want to see the whole story. We had the resignation of his secretary, so she didn't appear to say anything after the trial date (Jan. 26). The district attorney denies it was his office, but we don't know where we're going. We are going to iron this thing out to the bottom."

Arnold arrested Huss last Aug. 1 on County Trunk Z in the town of Buchanan for speeding. People in the area had complained about speeding gravel trucks. Huss made a paper airplane of the ticket and threw it at Arnold, then drove away, the patrolman said. Arnold stopped him again and also charged him with disorderly conduct.

Pair Denies Buying Beer for Minor Girls

Two rural Black Creek youths pleaded innocent in municipal court Monday of buying beer for two 16 and 17-year-old girls.

The youths are Orland Romensko and Raymond Larson, both 18. They posted $50 bonds and trial was set Feb. 23.

Charges were dismissed against a 17-year-old Black Creek boy when Judge Oscar J. Schmieg ruled that Dist. Atty. George Greisch had brought charges improperly.

Minors cannot be tried in municipal court unless juvenile court waives jurisdiction.

OSC Screening Unit Poses Problem

Regent Chairman Must Guess at Governor's Action

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Chairman W. D. McIntyre of the Wisconsin state college regents has a problem in political etiquette. Should he name Regent L. C. Magnusen of Oshkosh to a screening committee of the regents to examine candidates for the presidency of the Wisconsin state college of Oshkosh?

Normally the local regent in such a situation would be a member of the examination committee and under normal circumstances he would be the chairman of the group. But Gov. Nelson, a Democrat, has not yet indicated whether he intends to reappoint Magnusen, who got his original appointment from a Republican governor and who has a Republican background.

The presumption in state-house circles is that the governor will probably replace him, since his term expired on Feb. 1.

Regents serve without pay. The law does not require that governors select residents of the cities in which colleges are located to serve on the board of regents, but the practice is firmly established.

President Forrest R. Polk of the Oshkosh college has announced he will retire at the end of the present school year. The regents' screening committee will have a list of 47 candidates to consider for their chairman to name such a recommendation to the full special examination committee.
